Hanoi, Cong Warned On Propaganda

PARIS (AP) — South Vietnam warned the representatives of Hanoi and the Viet Cong today that if they keep making propaganda speeches, there will be no progress toward peace at the Paris talks.

Saigon's Ambassador Pham Dang Lam lashed out at the opening of the second session of the four-party talks. In a 5,000-word statement. He told the delegates from North Vietnam and the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front they had delivered "negative" statements at the opening of the conference last Saturday.

"Your statements," Lam said, "contained nothing but empty and unfounded calumnies against the constitutional, legal, authentic government of the Republic of Vietnam. They contained nothing but outdated propaganda.

"I consider it necessary to remind you that we have come here not for disputes or propaganda, but in response to the legitimate aspirations for peace of the South Vietnamese people. If you persist in this negative attitude, no progress can be achieved on the road to peace."

He attacked the other side's claim to represent the Vietnamese of both North and South, charging that "they have placed themselves at the service of and under the domination of international Communism . . . imposed a severe dictatorship of the party . . . and continued to reduce the population to growing poverty."

Lam himself put no new proposals before the conference although he once again supported American proposals made last Saturday.

Henry Cabot Lodge, chief of the U.S. delegation, said he would press again for discussion of the demilitarized zone, mutual troop withdrawals and prisoner exchanges, items in which the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong showed no visible interest at the first session of the enlarged conference last Saturday.

The atmosphere was chilly as the delegates from the United States, South Vietnam, North Vietnam and the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front arrived at the International Conference Center.

Neither side appeared ready yet to depart from set positions or to engage in a genuine dialogue. Conference sources said the two sides were likely to reaffirm the diametrically opposed stands which marked their meeting Jan. 25.

Some Hit Above 17th Parallel

B52s Bomb Reds' Supplies In Laos

SAIGON (AP) — From 15 to 30 American B52 bombers have been attacking Communist supply routes through Laos each day, and some of them have been hitting north of the 17th parallel, U.S. military sources said today.

The disclosure came shortly after the U.S. Command denied a charge by North Vietnam's foreign ministry that the huge eight-jet bombers had attacked "heavily populated" areas Sunday in North Vietnam's Quang Binh province, which is just north of the 17th parallel and just east of Laos.

The command said there had been no B52 raids on North Vietnam or the demilitarized zone astride the 17th parallel since last Oct. 28.

Although the U.S. government refuses to admit any military operations in Laos, it is common knowledge that the end of the bombing of North Vietnam on Nov. 1 was followed by a sharp increase in U.S. bombing of North Vietnamese supply traffic down the Ho Chi Minh Trail through Laos.

Reliable sources said the B52 strikes on eastern Laos have ranged as far as 30 miles north of the 17th parallel in efforts to smash the enemy supply columns as far away as possible. Some of these strikes are near the North Vietnamese border.

Otherwise, only minor action was reported today as South Vietnam marked the first anniversary of the Viet Cong's biggest offensive of the war.

Nixon 'Greets' Dissenting Views On Foreign Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has told some 700 officials charged with carrying out his foreign policy that there is plenty of room in his "Forward Together" administration for any dissenting views they may hold.

"Where there are strong dissenting views on foreign policy, I want these views, too," the President told a gathering of State Department officials Wednesday as he continued a round of get-acquainted visits to Capitol Hill and federal agencies.

Nixon took a slight break from that routine today for two prayer meetings, a session with the Apollo 8 astronauts and a White House dinner with the three moon-trip veterans and their wives.

Nixon held a two-hour session with the National security Council Wednesday in the White House, devoted mainly to a discussion of the nuclear, nonproliferation treaty. But there was no word on when there will be a move toward ratification in the Senate.

Along with visits to the Senate and the State Department, Nixon made one high-level appointment, naming Gerard Smith, a 54-year-old lawyer as director of the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency.

Nixon said he was upgrading the job and that Smith, credited by President John F. Kennedy with originating the Washington-Moscow hotline, would have "direct access to the secretary of state and to the President."

Smith has been an atomic energy adviser in three adminstrations.

Conflicting Reports

Israel Denies Iraq Claim Of Jets' Attack In Jordan

7 Aircraft Reported In Troop Raid

One Plane Downed East Of Cease-Fire Line, Iraqi Say

By The Associated Press

Iraq said seven Israeli jet fighters attacked Iraqi troops in Jordan today but Israel denied it.

An Israeli army spokesman in Tel Aviv said: "I completely deny this report. I don't know what gave rise to it. There has been absolutely nothing like this along the cease-fire line."

Newsmen on the Israeli side of the cease-fire line saw no sign of any unusual air activity.

A communique broadcast by Baghdad radio said the planes attacked Iraqi units east of the cease-fire line with Jordan. One Israeli jet was seen to plunge to the ground in flames, the Iraqis said.

The Iraqi communique said: "At 11:30 Baghdad time this morning, seven Israeli planes launched an air raid against our units operating on the eastern front.

"Our antiaircraft guns shot down one attacking plane. It was seen with the naked eye crashing in flames over the occupied Syrian Golan Heights. There were no Iraqi casualties."

At the same time, a Jordanian broadcast said two Israeli fighters had violated Arab air space over the Jordan River but were driven off by antiaircraft fire.

Iraq had charged Wednesday that Israel was preparing an attack in retaliation for the hanging of 14 Iraqis, nine of them Jews, convicted of spying in Baghdad and Basra on Monday.

There has been an outcry in Israel, the United States and several European countries, condemning the executions.

Iraq has an estimated 20,000 troops in Jordan. They had been there since the Arab-Israeli war of June 1967.

Israeli planes strafed and bombed the Iraqi forces Dec. 4, killing six soldiers, according to the Iraqis.

Israel on Wednesday denied charges from Iraq that it was massing troops for an attack on the Iraqi force in Jordan. At the same time, Israeli Defense Minister Moshe Dayan cautioned his country they must give the government of Iraq no excuse to do more harm to the estimated 8,000 Iraqi Jews.

Along with the official denial from the Israeli army, foreign newsmen in Israel observed no unusual troop movements. In addition, rain and snow were blanketing Israel and Jordan, imposing quietness on the cease-fire line.

Tanker Plane Crash Kills 4 And Injures 7

Wisconsin Adjutant General And Wife Are Among Victims

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Four persons, including Wisconsin's adjutant general and his wife, were killed Wednesday night when a giant tanker plane crashed and burst into flames one-half mile south of Gen. Mitchell Field.

Seven persons were injured in the crash of the Wisconsin Air National Guard KC97L of the 128th Refueling Group.

Maj. Gen. Ralph J. Olson, 64, had been Wisconsin's adjutant general for 18 years. The other victims were T. Sgt. Gerald, L. Becker, 31, Milwaukee, and Army Capt. Jerry Jerreman of Sun Prairie.

The plane, on a flight from Key West, Fla., was attempting to land in fog and rain, piloted by Col. Thomas L. Bailey,commander of the 128th and a veteran flyer who holds the Distinguished Flying Cross.

Bailey, 47, was hospitalized in fair condition with neck burns and possible smoke inhalation. Five of the other six survivors also were burned.

Olson was returning from an army school on civil disorders at Ft. Gordon, Ga.

Lt. Col. Ronald Daniels of the Air Guard told newsmen that the plane was on instrument landing approach to Mitchell Field and that the co-pilot was watching the ground from his window when he called out that the plane was coming down short of the runway. Daniels said he was told that the co-pilot called for a "fly-around," under

Rain Hangs Around With Month Near End

January apparently will bow out rather undramatically in a weather sense so far as the tri-state area is unconcerned.

The forecast again reads pretty much as it has recently — cloudiness and turning cooler with occasional rain tonight. The low is to be in the lower 30s.

It will be mostly cloudy and much cooler Friday, with the high in the mid-30s.

A spring-like reading greeted those on their way to work early this morning, with the temperature 53 in downtown East Liverpool at 6.

Colt's Targets

Executive Bares Philosophy, Goals

To grow but to meet competition with efficient production was spelled out as a basic philosophy of Colt Industries, parent corporation of Crucible Steel Division at Midland, by a top Colt executive Wednesday night.

Eugene March, group vice president for the steel subsidiary, described the history of Colt and outlined its operating policies at the annual dinner meeting of the Midland Chamber of Commerce. About 100 attended the event at the Willows Motel.

March explained some aspects of the reorganization and changes at Crucible which merged with Colt in 1968, and discussed domestic and foreign competition — declaring tariffs and quotas are not needed "in the long run" to meet the latter.

COLT INDUSTRIES in 1964, after a number of years of unprofitable operations, began to show improvement, a result of growing from within, March said, developing by interest in basic manufacturing, just as Crucible did.

In 1968, Colt's annual sales totaled $300,000,000, roughly the same as Crucible, and following the merger and some other acquisitions, Colt's sales now total some $800,000,000.

"Colt's philosophy is based upon being a builder, not just financially oriented," March declared, "but certainly cognizant of the importance of yield. We are not prone to milking a company for today's profits regardless of tomorrow's profits.

March said he is aware of rumors in the Midland area and elsewhere in Crucible about reported Colt attitudes of being apt to dispose of a company which is not successful.

"I can't assure anyone this won't happen, but it has not been in Colt's history," he stated.

March pointed out Colt is a heavy goods industry, selling to people who make things. Cru-

Skipper Of Sister Ship Would Avoid China, Korea

CORONADO, Calif. (AP) — The skipper of a sister ship to the USS Pueblo says he still believes in the concept of lightly armed intelligence craft but he wouldn't again want to take one near Red China or North Korea.

Cmdr. Charles R. Clark, who commanded the Banner, outlined to a Navy court of inquiry Wednesday a story that in some ways paralled the experience of Cmdr. Lloyd Bucher and the Pueblo—except the Banner was not seized by North Koreans and its crew held captive for 11 months.

He did not disagree when Bucher's attorney prefaced a question by saying: "You more than any other man can say, 'There but for the grace of God go I' when you look at Pete Bucher."

Clark took the stand in open session—the first in four days—after Rear Adm. Frank L. Johnson, who supervised the Pueblo, said he had no forces under his direct command to provide emergency help when North Korean gunboats surrounded her a year ago and that planes and ships from other commands were unavailable or too far away. Johnson said the Pueblo's two .50-caliber machine guns "did not appear to

House Group Plans Review Of Tax Laws

Clamor For Reform Mounts; Hearings Will Open Feb. 18

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee, responding to a mounting clamor for reform, has scheduled a sweeping review of the nation's tax laws.

Hearings expected to last several months are scheduled to start Fb. 18 with the operations of tax-exempt foundations, already under congressional scrutiny, to be examined first. Deductions for charitable gifts will follow.

For later hearings, the committee announced a wide-ranging agenda, embracing such traditionally explosive subjects as the oil depletion allowance, stock options for executives, the use of subsidiaries and trusts to reduce income and state taxes, part-time farming losses charged off against other income and accellerated real estate depreciation.

The federal tax code has not been thoroughly restudied in 15 years.

Demands for tax reform have taken a bipartisan look. Two days ago the Democratic National Committee announced it is preapring legislation to provide a minimum income tax for all high income persons, even though legal deductions and exclusions would normally eliminate tax liability.

But 3 Deterrents Are Cited

Birth Control Pill Sales Show Big Jump In Italy

ROME (AP) — More and more women in Roman Catholic Italy are taking birth control pills, but pharmacists say shame, ignorance and obedience to the Church are still deterrents.

Contraceptive pills were first put on sale in Italy in the fall of 1964. After a slow start, sales hit six million pills in 1966 and doubled the next year, accordng to the health ministry. Estmates for 1968 put the total at 24 million, taken regularly by 100,000 women, a 100 per cent increase for the second year in a row.

The figures indicate that Pope Paul VI's encyclical renewing the Church's ban on mechanical and chemical forms of birth control may be slowing the progress of the pill in Italy but it hasn't stopped it.

Pharmaceutical industries reported a decline in sales in August, the month after the Pope issued his encyclical, but sales surged upward again in September and kept rising in the months after. Pharmacists say most drug sales declined in August.

Legally, Italians must have a doctor's prescription to purchase the pill because the law requires that it be sold only for medical treatment. Some pharmacists ignore the prescription requirement, while others display more zeal in enforcement than the law requires of them.

In Rome, for instance, some pharmacists are not satisfied with a prescription and insist on seeing the buyer's identity papers to make sure the name on the papers matches that on the prescription.

The pill is most popular in the industrial North, where wages are higher and people are better educated. Eighteen per cent of the nation's sales are made in the Milan area and another 13 per cent in Venice. The Rome area is third with 12 per cent of sales, and the island of Sardinia trails with only 1.3 per cent.

Those who buy the pill almost always ask a woman pharmacist for it. Those who live in small towns or villages often go to a city for it, "especially those who are unmarried," a doctor in Milan said.

Family planning experts say that because of the law and traditional Catholic attitudes, the vast majority of Italians do not know exactly how the pill is used and blush at the thought of entering a pharmacy to ask for it.

This is especially true because women must show their own prescriptions. Other contraceptive devices are still more popular than the pill in Italy, and men do most of the buying.

But getting a prescription from a family doctor generally is no problem.

"One hundred thousand women prove that the small revolution of the pill also has arrived in Italy," the Turin newspaper La Stampa commented.

Nixon Against Forcing Integration In Schools

WASHINGTON (AP) — Welfare Secretary Robert H. Finch says the Nixon administration is against trying to force racial integration in schools by threatening to cut off federal funds.

Instead, Finch said Wednesday, the policy will be to stress negotiations with local school districts, plus "flexibility and fairness."

The head of the Health, Education and Welfare Department laid down these guidelines in announcing that five Southern school districts were being given an additional 60 days to comply with federal school desegregation law.

As a result of action taken by the Johnson administration welfare secretary, Wilbur Cohen, federal funds were withheld Wednesday from the schools in Mississippi and North and South Carolina because they failed to meet a deadline for desegregation plans.

Finch said formulation of his own policy came too late to halt the action but he hopes the funds can be restored.

He said he also dispatching federal teams to help the school districts work out the plans.

He said the withheld funds would be restored if the districts meet the new deadline.

Although against using federal funds as a bludgeon, Finch did not rule out entirely such an action which is permitted under the Civil Rights Act of 1964.

"When all the alternatives have been exhausted, as they have in these instances, the law in the end must be enforced," Finch said, referring to the five cases in question.

Finch said his enforcement of the law will be "consistent with the interpretation the President repeatedly expressed in the campaign."

Asked what this interpretation was, Finch referred newsmen to a statement the then Republican presidential candidate made at a news conference Sept. 19:

"When the Office of Education goes beyond the mandate of Congress and attempts to use the federal funds not just for the purpose of avoiding segregation but for the purpose of integration in positive ways—busing and the like—with that I disagree. And I do not believe federal funds should be used for that purpose."

A source in HEW's Office of Civil Rights said action to withhold federal funds was filed when "freedom of choice" plans adopted by all five of the Southern school systems failed to integrate separate schools for Negroes and white students.

"They still have all-Negro schools with all Negro teachers," he said, although he added that a token number of Negro students had chosen to attend preminantly white schools.

But 3 Deterrents Are Cited

Birth Control Pill Sales Show Big Jump In Italy

ROME (AP) — More and more women in Roman Catholic Italy are taking birth control pills, but pharmacists say shame, ignorance and obedience to the Church are still deterrents.

Contraceptive pills were first put on sale in Italy in the fall of 1964. After a slow start, sales hit six million pills in 1966 and doubled the next year, accordng to the health ministry. Estmates for 1968 put the total at 24 million, taken regularly by 100,000 women, a 100 per cent increase for the second year in a row.

The figures indicate that Pope Paul VI's encyclical renewing the Church's ban on mechanical and chemical forms of birth control may be slowing the progress of the piil in Italy but it hasn't stopped it.

Pharmaceutical industries reported a decline in sales in August, the month after the Pope issued his encyclical, but sales surged upward again in September and kept rising in the months after. Pharmacists say most drug sales declined in August.

Legally, Italians must have a doctor's prescription to purchase the pill because the law requires that it be sold only for medical treatment. Some pharmacists ignore the prescription requirement, while others display more zeal in enforcement than the law requires of them.

In Rome, for instance, some pharmacists are not satisfied with a prescription and insist on seeing the buyer's identity papers to make sure the name on the papers matches that on the prescription.

The pill is most popular in the industrial North, where wages are higher and people are better educated. Eighteen per cent of the nation's sales are made in the Milan area and another 13 per cent in Venice. The Rome area is third with 12 per cent of sales, and the island of Sardinia trails with only 1.3 per cent.

Those who buy the pill almost always ask a woman pharmacist for it. Those who live in small towns or villages often go to a city for it, "especially those who are unmarried," a doctor in Milan said.

Family planning experts say that because of the law and traditional Catholic attitudes, the vast majority of Italians do not know exactly how the pill is used and blush at the thought of entering a pharmacy to ask for it.

This is especially true because women must show their own prescriptions. Other contraceptive devices are still more popular than the pill in Italy, and men do most of the buying.

But getting a prescription from a family doctor generally is no problem.

"One hundred thousand women prove that the small revolution of the pill also has arrived in Italy," the Turin newspaper La Stampa commented.

Nixon Against Forcing Integration In Schools

WASHINGTON (AP) — Welfare Secretary Robert H. Finch says the Nixon administration is against trying to force racial integration in schools by threatening to cut off federal funds.

Instead, Finch said Wednesday, the policy will be to stress negotiations with local school districts, plus "flexibility and fairness."

The head of the Health, Education and Welfare Department laid down these guidelines in announcing that five Southern school districts were being given an additional 60 days to comply with federal school desegregation law.

As a result of action taken by the Johnson administration welfare secretary, Wilbur Cohen, federal funds were withheld Wednesday from the schools in Mississippi and North and South Carolina because they failed to meet a deadline for desegregation plans.

Finch said formulation of his own policy came too late to halt the action but he hopes the funds can be restored.

He said he also dispatching federal teams to help the school districts work out the plans.

He said the withheld funds would be restored if the districts meet the new deadline.

Although against using federal funds as a bludgeon, Finch did not rule out entirely such an action which is permitted under the Civil Rights Act of 1964.

"When all the alternatives have been exhausted, as they have in these instances, the law in the end must be enforced," Finch said, referring to the five cases in question.

Finch said his enforcement of the law will be "consistent with the interpretation the President repeatedly expressed in the campaign."

Asked what this interpretation was, Finch referred newsmen to a statement the then Republican presidential candidate made at a news conference Sept. 19:

"When the Office of Education goes beyond the mandate of Congress and attempts to use the federal funds not just for the purpose of avoiding segregation but for the purpose of integration in positive ways—busing and the like—with that I disagree. And I do not believe federal funds should be used for that purpose."

A source in HEW's Office of Civil Rights said action to withhold federal funds was filed when "freedom of choice" plans adopted by all five of the Southern school systems failed to integrate separate schools for Negroes and white students.

"They still have all-Negro schools with all Negro teachers," he said, although he added that a token number of Negro students had chosen to attend preminantly white schools.

James Whistler died a celebrated painter in London in 1903, but it wasn't until some 30 years later, when a U.S. postage stamp reproduced the portrait "Whistler's Mother" to honor Mother's Day, that he was recognized in the land of his birth. Although he thought highly of his mother, Whistler was most unsentimental in naming the colorless portrait of 1872 "Arrangement in Grey & Black, No. 1."

Avoiding An Academic Mishmash

The Ohio Board of Regents and its chancellor are still running off the track when they insist that technical-vocational education and training be incorporated in the curriculum of university branches.

The type of technical institute we envision has very little in common with the academic orientation so characteristic of university level courses on which emphasis is laid in the branches.

To be sure, such an institute would offer a number of accredited courses in the technologies, but its main thrust would extend in a much wider spectrum encompassing skills ranging from manual industrial applications to advanced vocational training.

THE USES TO WHICH a separately-administered technical institute could be put are almost limitless, whereas most of the university branches are already so overcrowded and so poorly equipped for such an adventure that, in time, the presumed new emphasis would wind up in a striking resemblance to the academic disciplines.

Evidence that the university presidents are only passively interested, if at all, in the terminal technologies is to be found in the fact that only 2 of the 18 state university branches now offer such courses.

But they are happy to surrender to the regents' seeming determination to thrust technical education upon them when it appears that there is a possibility that separate systems might be established paralleling or challenging their imperialistic establishments.

Now is the time for the governor of Ohio, the Board of Regents and its chancellor to stand up and be counted in a realistic evaluation of the problems confronting the state's educational system.

The faculties and the students of the state university community want the current campus-branch arrangement and the level of courses offered to stay, at the very least, just as they are, or preferably to be upgraded.

IF THE STATE'S political establishment and the Board of Regents are seriously interested in placing new emphasis on technical-vocational education — which we sincerely believe they are and ought to be — the answer clearly lies in the direction of a group of regional institutions dedicated solely to that purpose and not integrated into the present academic system to create a mishmash where nothing comes out clearly defined.

If trial balloons are to be raised, let them be strong enough to withstand the heat of penetration.

Keystone Budget

It is highly unlikely Pennsylvanians are to be served with the ambitious programs proposed by Gov. Raymond Shafer in his budget outline this week nor inflicted with the tax burdens he has proposed.

A state income tax is not only unpopular with the citizens and private enterprise, it is seemingly unacceptable to legislators of both parties who are aware — as is Gov. Shafer — of the political consequences.

Further, not a few of the new programs outlined by the Governor, while valid and ideal for what he believes suitable for "prosperous" times, might well be trimmed in view of local government needs, inflation, increased federal taxes, and the nation's obligations in the Vietnam war.

Pennsylvania cannot afford to skimp on education "musts," on highways and other services and programs, but Pennsylvanians are not any less economy - minded than taxpayers of other progressive states who have more realistic budgets and plans for the future.

OEO Indictment Broadened

The verbal indictment against New York City's Neighborhood Youth Corps (NYC), a project sponsored by the Office of Economic Opportunity, has broadened from fiscal abuses to the area of racial discrimination.

Rep. Hugh L. Cleary, chairman of a committee looking into the city's NYC program reports that federal investigators have graded the project "low on equal opportunity."

HE CHARGED AN over-all pattern of discrimination exists in the NYC program and in one operation "all but one racial group was ignored."

The new complaint about the NYC adds more fuel to the fire of discontent over mismanagement and outright thievery that has plagued the war on poverty programs in cities across the nation.

President Nixon's previous statements over disappointing results in various antipoverty programs coupled with growing public reaction against repeated stories of misappropriated funds that run into the millions signal a death knell for some of the projects.

At the end of last week, President Nixon's Cabinet officers were given specific instructions to go over their departmental budgets with a fine tooth comb and make cuts wherever possible.

Robert P. Mayo, budget director, said: "Most Americans expect us to be more careful and more frugal as well as more concerned and we should not disappoint them."

The Nixon administration doesn't want to be committed to long-range Johnson administration spending policies that do not have priority approval from the new President.

TO SHOW THE present administration's flexibility, Mr. Mayo did not ban upward revisions in proposed spending in areas where a greater urgency is felt by Cabinet members. He did request that increase requests be offset by reductions in lower priority activities.

The OEO programs that are not fulfilling expectations should be eliminated and those that have achieved desired goals should be tightened and monitored closely to avoid abuse.

Tax dollars are too hard for the working American to come by for the federal government to spend them carelessly or hand them out to thieves in the guise of helping those in need.

1st Press Conference

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — I went to President Nixon's first press conference Monday morning. A president's first press conference is as important to the press as it is to the president. The entire country is watching to see if the White House correspondents are up to questioning their leader.

Art Buchwald

About 500 of us were crouched at the West Wing starting line 30 minutes before the conference began. At the signal from the Secret Service, we made the outdoor dash for the White House portico.

Running and jogging are not permitted but the pace is fast. The reason for speed is that there are only 300 seats in the East Room and if you're not quick enough a woman reporter will beat you to a seat.

THE IDEA OF COVERING a televised presidential press conference is to get on TV, so your family as well as your bosses back home will see you. The best way to do this is to ask a question, preferably a long one, so the camera will stay on you, instead of the president.

The next best thing to asking a question is to sit behind someone whom you are sure will ask one.

During President Kennedy's Administration I always tried to get a seat behind May Craig. It was a sure way of getting on TV. Unfortunately other reporters knew this, too, and there was always a fight for seats behind where May Craig placed herself.

IN THE JOHNSON administration we all used to gravitate behind Sarah McClendon, who writes for a string of Texas newspapers. Unfortunately, it was too early in the Nixon administration to know whom to sit behind, though after this first press conference the smart money is now on Clark Mollenhoff of the Cowles newspapers.

The ground rule for asking questions at a White House press conference is to jump up from your chair and hope the president will recognize you. That is why it's so important to have a seat. If you're already standing, the president doesn't know whether you want to ask a question or whether you were just unlucky not to get a chair.

The only thing standees can do is crouch while the president is speaking and then straighten up when he's ready to take a question and shout "Mr. President." But it rarely works in the East Room.

Since the president of the United States cannot bestow knighthood on reporters, the next best thing is for him to recognize a newspaper reporter by name. This is comparable to Queen Elizabeth giving someone the Order of the Garter.

If the president not only recognizes someone by name but refers to something he has written, as he did in the case of Mr. Mollenooff, the reporter has nothing to look forward to except to be asked to leave his footprints in cement in Lyn Nugent's Children's Garden.

This was President Nixon's first press conference and I didn't know what to do. I was tempted to sit behind Sarah McClendon on the off chance that the change in administrations would have no effect on her being recognized. But at the last minute I decided to take a calculated risk and sit behind Edward P. Morgan, the TV and radio commentator.

AS LUCK WOULD HAVE IT, I made the right decision, because Miss McClendon was never recognized and Mr. Morgan not only got the nod from President Nixon but asked the longest question of the press conference. By sticking my head around Mr. Morgan's elbow, I must have been on TV for at least a minute.

I thought my father would be very happy with the exposure but when I called him that night his only comment was, "I liked you better when you sat behind Sarah McClendon."

Everyone who watches TV is a critic.

Thoughts

"Yet Jesus has been counted worthy of as much more glory than Moses as the builder of a house has more honor than the house." —Hebrews 3:3.

"No person was ever honored for what he received. Honor has been the reward for what he gave.—Calvin Coolidge, 30th U.S. president.

VICTOR RIESEL

Labor Deplores DeGaulle

WASHINGTON — America's labor leaders are eager to cut Gen. de Gaulle down to size — and smaller if possible.

The movement's sophisticated strategists and foreign affairs specialists, now preparing position papers for the AFL-CIO high command's midwinter session, to which will come Secretary of Labor George Shultz, are disturbed by the French president's sale of arms to Lebanon and Iraq. They're angered by Paris' refusal to deliver weapons and aircraft to Israel, which already has paid for much of this military equipment.

Victor Riesel

And the union chiefs are furious over France's export trade with Maoist China — trade which the labor leaders believe enables Peking to send vital small arms to Hanoi's troops.

This conclusion appears to be substantiated by reports from the Director of Intelligence and Research of the State Dept.

According to this intelligence section, France sent Communist China over $93.2 million worth of valuable materiel in 1967 — the latest year for which the State Dept. has complete statistics. The word is that this mainland Chinese trade with France increased in 1968.

FOR CHAIRMAN MAO'S $93.2 million, Communist China received French aluminum, metal alloys, trucks, ships, helicopters, and parts for aircraft. Also electrical and metalworking machinery.

And chemicals, universals, plates sheets of iron and steel, nickel allohs, other iron and steel products, regular machinery. As well as fertilizer, paper and paperboard, nitrogenous fertilizers, textiles, yarn, thread, fabrics (believed to be for uniforms).

What adds insult to possible injury to American troops in the field, says one foreign affairs United Steelworkers specialist, is the fact that Gen. de Gaulle has insisted that Maoist China be extended better credit arrangements than those given Western purchasers, though the risk of nonpayment obviously is greater in Peking.

Offhand it appears that American labor, though the AFL-CIO speaks for a powerful bloc of almost 14 million members now, can do little but fulminate during its conferences in Bal Harbour scheduled to begin in two weeks.

But the labor federation does have influence in France through its ties with the equally outspoken anti-Communist French union movement known as the Force Ouvriere (F.O.), whose leaders have been hammering at the French president.

Both the AFL-CIO and the F.O. were enraged by the general's pro-Communist, pro-Soviet foreign policy — not only in the Orient, but in the Middle East as well.

THERE IS NO DOUBT of the pro-Israeli sympathies of AFL-CIO President George Meany. It took him about an hour to make this clear recently, when he received a request for help from the Council of Lebanese Trade Unions, which dispatched the following cable to Mr. Meany on Jan. 12: "Perfidious attack by Israel on Beirut International Airport constitutes grave assault against UN Charter and Rights of Man. Peace dangerously comprised. We appeal for your fraternal support to alert public opinion and to have (U.S.—VR) government support application of the Security Council resolution for safeguarding peace."

By Jan. 13, the Beirut labor leaders received the following reply from George Meany:

"Re your cable: AFL-CIO deeply deplores all acts of terrorism and the retaliatory measures which those acts inevitably incur. Freedom and well-being for all the people in Middle East urgently demands total cessation of such hostile acts which destroy life and property and gravely jeopardize prospects of just and lasting peace between Republic of Israel and its Arab neighbors."

THUS, MR. MEANY boxed in the pro-Arab and Francophile Lebanese labor leaders by telling them like it is — and urging them to end the guerrilla raids, to end the use of Lebanon as a propaganda and training base for the overly romanticized killer bands.

"This is no musical comedy desert song," said one of Meany's aides the other day, "those guerrillas shooting at and blasting women and children."

So quietly the labor movement plans its counterattack against Gen. de Gaulle and his allies in the Far and Middle East. The Americans are sending word to President Nixon that they hope he will not accept the French proposal for a four-power Middle East "Peace" Conference.

These union chiefs get on well with Mr. Nixon's Secretary of Labor and hope to use his good office to channel their policies to the White House, now so strangely new to them. They are not working through foreign affairs adviser Henry Kissinger, whom they respect, but whom they believe to be strongly Gaullist.

And so they wait and see if President Nixon will heed them and confer with them on foreign policy as Lyndon Johnson did for so long.

President's News Conference

President Nixon, at the first news conference of his administration, handled himself with a skill and forthrightness rather unusual and unexpected from a chief executive who has been in office only a week.

He obviously could not have done it if he had not been studying public questions carefully. His televised meeting with the press indicates that he has chosen a clear-cut rather than an ambiguous approach.

Mr. Nixon, for instance, in a simple manner disposed of a question on a highly controversial subject — the admission of Communist China to the United Nations.

HE SAID HIS POLICY would be to continue to oppose Red China's entry — first, because Peking has not indicated any interest in becoming a member and, second, because it has not shown any intent "to abide by the principles of the U.N. charter."

He added that Communist China also continues to call for the expulsion of the Republic of China from the United Nations even though the Formosan government "has met its responsibilities without any question over these past few years."

Mr. Nixon suggested, too, that the resumption of talks at Warsaw soon by American and Red Chinese representatives may disclose "whether new changes of attitude on major, substantive issues may have occurred."

The President made it clear that he does not think policies — particularly foreign policy — should be made "by off-the-cuff responses in press conferences, or any other kind of conferences."

He said he believes decisions should be reached in an orderly way and that this is why he has established the Urban Affairs Council and a cabinet committee on economic policy, and has revitalized the National Security Council for Foreign Affairs.

Mr. Nixon referred to two very long meetings of the National Security Council at which foreign policy was discussed. He declared that he regards the Middle East as "a powder keg, very explosive" and that it is very important to "cool it off" so as to avoid "a confrontation between the nuclear powers."

Perhaps the most interesting explanation that the President gave was related to the possibility of a "cease-fire" in Vietnam. He said the word applies more to a conventional war than to a guerrilla war. He pointed out that, in the latter, "one side may not even be able to control many of those who are responsible for the violence in the area" and that a cease-fire could then be "meaningless."

He feels that an agreement on mutual withdrawal of military forces and other factors should have priority in the peace talks at Paris.

As for the armament strength of the United States, Mr. Nixon declared that "sufficiency" is a better term than either "superiority" or "parity." He said that the important objective is to get "sufficient military power to defend our interests and to maintain the commitments which this administration determines are in the interest of the United States around the world."

With respect to the problem of inflation, Mr. Nixon gave assurances that he is considering what actions can be taken which will not bring "an unacceptable rise in unemployment." He said that, without "too much managing of the economy," it is going to be necessary to "do some fine tuning of our fiscal and monetary affairs in order to control inflation."

The President revealed that he does not go along with the suggestion that inflation can be effectively controlled merely "by exhorting labor and management and industry to follow certain guidelines."

HE COMMENTED THAT, much as the leaders on both sides "might personally want to do what is in the best interest of the nation," they have to be guided by the interests of their own organizations. He added:

"So the primary responsibility for controlling inflation rests with the national administration and its handling of fiscal and monetary affairs. That is why we will have some new approaches in this area. We assume that responsibility. We think we can meet it, that we can control inflation without an increase in unemployment."

These were some of the various issues which the President discussed in a candid way with the members of the press, many of whom said afterwards it had been one of the most interesting and satisfactory news conferences in years.

Avoiding An Academic Mishmash

The Ohio Board of Regents and its chancellor are still running off the track when they insist that technical-vocational education and training be incorporated in the curriculum of university branches.

The type of technical institute we envision has very little in common with the academic orientation so characteristic of university level courses on which emphasis is laid in the branches.

To be sure, such an institute would offer a number of accredited courses in the technologies, but its main thrust would extend in a much wider spectrum encompassing skills ranging from manual industrial applications to advanced vocational training.

THE USES TO WHICH a separately-administered technical institute could be put are almost limitless, whereas most of the university branches are already so overcrowded and so poorly equipped for such an adventure that, in time, the presumed new emphasis would wind up in a striking resemblance to the academic disciplines.

Evidence that the university presidents are only passively interested, if at all, in the terminal technologies is to be found in the fact that only 2 of the 18 state university branches now offer such courses.

But they are happy to surrender to the regents' seeming determination to thrust technical education upon them when it appears that there is a possibility that separate systems might be established paralleling or challenging their imperialistic establishments.

Now is the time for the governor of Ohio, the Board of Regents and its chancellor to stand up and be counted in a realistic evaluation of the problems confronting the state's educational system.

The faculties and the students of the state university community want the current campus-branch arrangement and the level of courses offered to stay, at the very least, just as they are, or preferably to be upgraded.

IF THE STATE'S political establishment and the Board of Regents are seriously interested in placing new emphasis on technical-vocational education — which we sincerely believe they are and ought to be — the answer clearly lies in the direction of a group of regional institutions dedicated solely to that purpose and not integrated into the present academic system to create a mishmash where nothing comes out clearly defined.

If trial balloons are to be raised, let them be strong enough to withstand the heat of penetration.

Keystone Budget

It is highly unlikely Pennsylvanians are to be served with the ambitious programs proposed by Gov. Raymond Shafer in his budget outline this week nor inflicted with the tax burdens he has proposed.

A state income tax is not only unpopular with the citizens and private enterprise, it is seemingly unacceptable to legislators of both parties who are aware — as is Gov. Shafer— of the political consequences.

Further, not a few of the new programs outlined by the Governor, while valid and ideal for what he believes suitable for "prosperous" times, might well be trimmed in view of local government needs, inflation, increased federal taxes, and the nation's obligations in the Vietnam war.

Pennsylvania cannot afford to skimp on education "musts," on highways and other services and programs, but Pennsylvanians are not any less economy - minded than taxpayers of other progressive states who have more realistic budgets and plans for the future.

OEO Indictment Broadened

The verbal indictment against New York City's Neighborhood Youth Corps (NYC), a project sponsored by the Office of Economic Opportunity, has broadened from fiscal abuses to the area of racial discrimination.

Rep. Hugh L. Cleary, chairman of a committee looking into the city's NYC program reports that federal investigators have graded the project "low on equal opportunity."

HE CHARGED AN over-all pattern of discrimination exists in the NYC program and in one operation "all but one racial group was ignored."

The new complaint about the NYC adds more fuel to the fire of discontent over mismanagement and outright thievery that has plagued the war on poverty programs in cities across the nation.

President Nixon's previous statements over disappointing results in various antipoverty programs coupled with growing public reaction against repeated stories of misappropriated funds that run into the millions signal a death knell for some of the projects.

At the end of last week, President Nixon's Cabinet officers were given specific instructions to go over their departmental budgets with a fine tooth comb and make cuts wherever possible.

Robert P. Mayo, budget director, said: "Most Americans expect us to be more careful and more frugal as well as more concerned and we should not disappoint them."

The Nixon administration doesn't want to be committed to long-range Johnson administration spending policies that do not have priority approval from the new President.

TO SHOW THE present administration's flexibility, Mr. Mayo did not ban upward revisions in proposed spending in areas where a greater urgency is felt by Cabinet members. He did request that increase requests be offset by reductions in lower priority activities.

The OEO programs that are not fulfilling expectations should be eliminated and those that have achieved desired goals should be tightened and monitored closely to avoid abuse.

Tax dollars are too hard for the working American to come by for the federal government to spend them carelessly or hand them out to thieves in the guise of helping those in need.

1st Press Conference

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — I went to President Nixon's first press conference Monday morning. A president's first press conference is as important to the press as it is to the president. The entire country is watching to see if the White House correspondents are up to questioning their leader.

Art Buchwald

About 500 of us were crouched at the West Wing starting line 30 minutes before the conference began. At the signal from the Secret Service, we made the outdoor dash for the White House portico.

Running and jogging are not permitted but the pace is fast. The reason for speed is that there are only 300 seats in the East Room and if you're not quick enough a woman reporter will beat you to a seat.

THE IDEA OF COVERING a televised presidential press conference is to get on TV, so your family as well as your bosses back home will see you. The best way to do this is to ask a question, preferably a long one, so the camera will stay on you, instead of the president.

The next best thing to asking a question is to sit behind someone whom you are sure will ask one.

During President Kennedy's Administration I always tried to get a seat behind May Craig. It was a sure way of getting on TV. Unfortunately other reporters knew this, too, and there was always a fight for seats behind where May Craig placed herself.

IN THE JOHNSON administration we all used to gravitate behind Sarah McClendon, who writes for a string of Texas newspapers. Unfortunately, it was too early in the Nixon administration to know whom to sit behind, though after this first press conference the smart money is now on Clark Mollenhoff of the Cowles newspapers.

The ground rule for asking questions at a White House press conference is to jump up from your chair and hope the president will recognize you. That is why it's so important to have a seat. If you're already standing, the president doesn't know whether you want to ask a question or whether you were just unlucky not to get a chair.

The only thing standees can do is crouch while the president is speaking and then straighten up when he's ready to take a question and shout "Mr. President." But it rarely works in the East Room.

Since the president of the United States cannot bestow knighthood on reporters, the next best thing is for him to recognize a newspaper reporter by name. This is comparable to Queen Elizabeth giving someone the Order of the Garter.

If the president not only recognizes someone by name but refers to something he has written, as he did in the case of Mr. Mollenooff, the reporter has nothing to look forward to except to be asked to leave his footprints in cement in Lyn Nugent's Children's Garden.

This was President Nixon's first press conference and I didn't know what to do. I was tempted to sit behind Sarah McClendon on the off chance that the change in administrations would have no effect on her being recognized. But at the last minute I decided to take a calculated risk and sit behind Edward P. Morgan, the TV and radio commentator.

AS LUCK WOULD HAVE IT, I made the right decision, because Miss McClendon was never recognized and Mr. Morgan not only got the nod from President Nixon but asked the longest question of the press conference. By sticking my head around Mr. Morgan's elbow, I must have been on TV for at least a minute.

I thought my father would be very happy with the exposure but when I called him that night his only comment was, "I liked you better when you sat behind Sarah McClendon."

Everyone who watches TV is a critic.

New Financial Gains Listed For Teachers Credit Union

COLUMBIANA — The Columbiana County School Employes Credit Union, Inc., announced a 5 per cent dividend rate for the last half of 1968 Wednesday night.

Ninety - nine members and guests attended the annual dinner meeting at Heck's Restaurant.

President Roy Cashdollar, superintendent of Beaver Local schools, said the rate for the first half last year was 4½ per cent, which had prevailed since 1961.

Dividend payments last year were more than $4,000, compared with $3,270 in 1967.

—:—

TREASURER Peter Marra, high school supervisor for the county school system, reported a successful year, with business exceeding $100,000 for the first time.

A summary of 1968 follows with 1967 figures in parentheses:

Total assets, $105,224 ($92,771); members, 224 (210); investment, $97,784 ($85,840); loans outstanding, $79,333 ($53,728); number of loans, 105 (94); income, $9,464 ($7,579), and expenses, $3,764 ($3,110).

—:—

THE CREDIT committee report was given by Mrs. Sarah Day, a teacher at Franklin School, Southern Local District.

Members authorized the board to dispense with meetings in July and August this year.

Cashdollar introduced Lorin Ruff, elementary supervisor for the county school system, referring to him as "Mr. Credit Union" for his work in establishing the organization in 1955.

The credit union is open to all employes of rural, village and city schools in the county. Employes interested may obtain information from Marra or Mrs. June Ingraham, assistant treasurer, at the county school system office in Lisbon.

Vote By Student Proposed On College Trustees' Board

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An Ohio Senate committee has been told that "giving a student one vote on a university's board of trustees would not constitute his taking over the institution."

Terry Perris, University of Toledo student body president, testified during a hearing Wednesday night on a bill which would add an undergraduate student, a faculty member and the university president as non-voting members of each state university board of trustees.

Under the bill introduced by Sen. Ralph S. Regula R-29 Stark student and faculty members would serve one year terms.

Perris recommended that the Education, Health and Welfare Committee "alter" the bill to give votes to all three.

He argued that a student should have a vote "to allow him to register student opinion even if it is in dissent."

Perris told the committee that under an "informal agreement," he now sits in on UT board of trustee meetings.

One committee member, Sen. Oliver Ocasek D-28 Akron, said if a student and a faculty member were made members of boards of trustees "then let's give them a vote."

But Ocasek added that he was opposed to making university presidents voting members.

"I don't see how we can give an administrative official a vote to approve something he is recommending," he said.

The Senate Judiciary Committee heard testimony on a bill which would increase parental liability up to $2,000 for juveniles convicted of destruction of property or assault.

Detective Sgt. Wesley Mysonhimer of the Cincinnati Police Juvenile Bureau said the penalty of such a law would have a "psychological impact" on parents although many times damages were not collectable.

Jerry Couzins, who works for the Cincinnati Board of Education, said "vandalism costs Cincinnati public schools approximately $500,000 a year.

Couzins said a recent fire in a junior high school did $30,000 of damage. He said a juvenile was involved.

He testified that such a law would help the school board to reduce its losses by collecting from those parents who could pay.

West Virginia State Police Head To Quit

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Col. Terrence A. Welty, superintendent of the West Virginia State Police since June 1967, announced Wednesday he is retiring to accept a teaching post at Marshall University in Huntington.

The announcement was made at a news conference held jointly by Welty and Gov. Arch A. Moore Jr. The governor said he was accepting the resignation "with regret that the state is losing a gentleman of Col. Welty's fine character and ability."

Welty said the Marshall post, subject to State Board of Education approval, would involve setting up a course in police administration. He expects to begin his new duties Saturday.

Moore said he expected appointment of a new State Police superintendent to be among about 18 appointments he will announce at a news conference Friday morning.

Welty, 51, came up through the ranks to the top State Police post. He has been with the department since September 1940.

He is a native of Fairchance, Pa., grew up in Barracksville and attended Marion County public schools, West Virginia University and West Virginia State College. He served two years in the Army Air Force in World War II.

"Li'l Abner," the musical production to be presented Feb. 28 and March 1 by the East Liverpool High School Choir was discussed by Mrs. Frankie Harris, director, during the meeting of the Choir Parents Tuesday night at the school.

The group voted to sell refreshments during intermission.

Bus transportation for the choir will be provided by the parents to the County Music Festival at Salem March 14.

Reports were given by Mrs. Bonnie Chapman, membership, and Mrs. Norma Richards, basketball programs.

Raymond Richards presided. The next meeting will be Feb. 25.

Squadron Will Hold Charter Ceremonies

Plans were made for a charter presentation when Squadron 307 of the East Liverpool Civil Air Patrol met Tuesday night in the headquarters on Pennsylvania Ave.

Stricter military discipline will be enforced within the local group to encourage an active interest in CAP, officials said.

Cadet Master Sgt. Kris Wilson reported on a recent conference.

The next meeting will be Tuesday at 7 p. m.

In 1863, two Russian fleets unexpectedly appeared in American waters, one in the Pacific and the other in the Atlantic. Six warships put into port at San Francisco and a like number at New York. It was considered a friendly gesture.

New Financial Gains Listed For Teachers Credit Union

COLUMBIANA — The Columbiana County School Employes Credit Union, Inc., announced a 5 per cent dividend rate for the last half of 1968 Wednesday night.

Ninety - nine members and guests attended the annual dinner meeting at Heck's Restaurant.

President Roy Cashdollar, superintendent of Beaver Local schools, said the rate for the first half last year was 4½ per cent, which had prevailed since 1961.

Dividend payments last year were more than $4,000, compared with $3,270 in 1967.

—:—

TREASURER Peter Marra, high school supervisor for the county school system, reported a successful year, with business exceeding $100,000 for the first time.

A summary of 1968 follows with 1967 figures in parentheses:

Total assets, $105,224 ($92,771); members, 224 (210); investment, $97,784 ($85,840); loans outstanding, $79,333 ($53,728); number of loans, 105 (94); income, $9,464 ($7,579), and expenses, $3,764 ($3,110).

Mrs. Phyllis Trotter, a teacher at Beaver Local Public School, and Mrs. Marjorie Fair, a teacher at United School, were re-elected to the board of directors.

Mrs. Martha Dorr and Joseph Fair, teachers at United, were elected to the credit committee. She succeeds Fred Lohman of Salineville, county school system attendance officer. Fair was on the committee last year.

—:—

THE CREDIT committee report was given by Mrs. Sarah Day, a teacher at Franklin School, Southern Local District.

Members authorized the board to dispense with meetings in July and August this year.

Cashdollar introduced Lorin Ruff, elementary supervisor for the county school system, referring to him as "Mr. Credit Union" for his work in establishing the organization in 1955.

The credit union is open to all employes of rural, village and city schools in the county. Employes interested may obtain information from Marra or Mrs. June Ingraham, assistant treasurer, at the county school system office in Lisbon.

West Virginia State Police Head To Quit

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Col. Terrence A. Welty, superintendent of the West Virginia State Police since June 1967, announced Wednesday he is retiring to accept a teaching post at Marshall University in Huntington.

The announcement was made at a news conference held jointly by Welty and Gov. Arch A. Moore Jr. The governor said he was accepting the resignation "with regret that the state is losing a gentleman of Col. Welty's fine character and ability."

Welty said the Marshall post, subject to State Board of Education approval, would involve setting up a course in police administration. He expects to begin his new duties Saturday.

Moore said he expected appointment of a new State Police superintendent to be among about 18 appointments he will announce at a news conference Friday morning.

Welty, 51, came up through the ranks to the top State Police post. He has been with the department since September 1940.

He is a native of Fairchance, Pa., grew up in Barracksville and attended Marion County public schools, West Virginia University and West Virginia State College. He served two years in the Army Air Force in World War II.

Vote By Student Proposed On College Trustees' Board

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An Ohio Senate committee has been told that "giving a student one vote on a university's board of trustees would not constitute his taking over the institution."

Terry Perris, University of Toledo student body president, testified during a hearing Wednesday night on a bill which would add an undergraduate student, a faculty member and the university president as non-voting members of each state university board of trustees.

Under the bill introduced by Sen. Ralph S. Regula R-29 Stark student and faculty members would serve one year terms.

Perris recommended that the Education, Health and Welfare Committee "alter" the bill to give votes to all three.

He argued that a student should have a vote "to allow him to register student opinion even if it is in dissent."

Perris told the committee that under an "informal agreement," he now sits in on UT board of trustee meetings.

One committee member, Sen. Oliver Ocasek D-28 Akron, said if a student and a faculty member were made members of boards of trustees "then let's give them a vote."

But Ocasek added that he was opposed to making university presidents voting members.

"I don't see how we can give an administrative official a vote to approve something he is recommending," he said.

The Senate Judiciary Committee heard testimony on a bill which would increase parental liability up to $2,000 for juveniles convicted of destruction of property or assault.

Detective Sgt. Wesley Mysonhimer of the Cincinnati Police Juvenile Bureau said the penalty of such a law would have a "psychological impact" on parents although many times damages were not collectable.

Jerry Couzins, who works for the Cincinnati Board of Education, said "vandalism costs Cincinnati public schools approximately $500,000 a year.

Couzins said a recent fire in a junior high school did $30,000 of damage. He said a juvenile was involved.

He testified that such a law would help the school board to reduce its losses by collecting from those parents who could pay.

Colt

cible has been the same type of operation, he said, adding further merger moves are not presently under consideration.

—:—

"THE BASIC Colt philosophy," March stated, "is to organize along product lines, dividing the corporation into units oriented to a single purpose—so people on the firing line have the authority to make the decisions."

He cited General Motors as an example of "divisionalization" for good operations, and said the trend to such a system is growing, referring to General Electric and Westinghouse. "This places authority and control with the people closest to what is going on."

Crucible had embarked on this trend, for example, in reorganizing its stainless and alloy steel sales force, dividing them so they could develop their own lines and exploit them, he said.

"How does it work? We aren't completely sure yet." But he said Crucible's 1968 earnings were considerably above those of 1967.

This was accomplished, he said, by cutting overhead and production costs. The Pittsburgh headquarters was reduced, trimming to 31 employes the staff which had numbered more than 200.

—:—

ELIMINATION of unprofitable Crucible foreign operations was another gain, March mentioned, and the turning of the magnet division into a profitable venture was another.

"We still had major problems, however," March stated. The threat of a steel strike compressed Crucible business into the first half of the year as buyers hedged.

Starting up of the Topblown Oxygen Converter was expensive, and it has not yet been determined what the total cost of this has meant to the firm, he reported.

March said the TOC operating cost at present is "perhaps a little bit cheaper" than the phased-out open hearths, "but we'll improve on that in 1969."

"We want, with the community of Midland, to grow, expand. But we are in a market of tough price competition."

"It is no secret prices are now negotiated, that large volume sales are worked out with buyers lower than the published list prices. This is not illegal, it is the method of working for a lower price and a lower profit margin."

"BUT IT requires more efficiency and elimination of 'fat' in production. This has meant at Midland, for example, reduction of work force, regretfully the elimination of some people. We were not happy to see some go, but it was necessary to remain competitive."

March spoke of the competition from foreign steelmakers, not only in basic steel forms but in manufactured steel products such as the Volkswagen, and in the deterioration of American prices due to the threat of a switch by buyers to imports.

He said labor costs in Europe and Japan are lower than in the U.S., but figured into the total cost of production, the labor expenses are not so disproportional.

"We don't need tariff or quota protection in the long run," the executive declared, admitting this was contrary to some steel leaders' contention.

He said steel making in Japan and European countries is under the control of the government, and is not aimed at profit making, but at full employment. "They are losing money in some plants," he stated.

THESE FOREIGN manufacturers also are subsidized and have certain tax preferences, he went on.

"There are unfair practices by some import operations which are illegal under laws presently on the books." He said the import problem could be eased without quotas or tariffs but by enforcing the legislation.

"Why haven't they enforced it?," he asked. "Because they haven't been asked to, and I suggest we do."

March also suggested the State Department recognize its insistence on aiding other countries which have steel producers is contributing to the balance of payments problem, and desist.

He said there will be less steel importing "due to our own strengths." March pointed out the U.S. has its own larger market for steel, and has better management techniques — "The Japanese and Germans continue to study our ways of doing things."

"We can flex our inventory and work force to meet market demands — not keep people who are not needed. The foreign producers cannot do this, for they are obligated to keep full employment."

March predicted the American steel industry will continue to grow — "and Colt-Crucible will expand at a faster rate than the rest of the industry."

me to provide a significant defense capability."

The court goes into closed session today to hear classified information.

Johnson, commander of the U.S. Naval Forces—Japan at the time, said planes could not operate out of Japan because of an agreement with that country forbiding use of Japan-based aircraft in engagements with unfriendly forces.

After Johnson described the forces available to him, Rear Adm. Marshall White of the five-admiral court said: "Then we really had a contingency plan to use forces that didn't exist. There was no help available for her?"

Answer: "No forces were available to me."

Q. "Then there were no forces readily available to come to the assistance of the Pueblo as I understand your on-call arrangement with the 5th Air Force and the 7th Fleet?"

A. "They (the forces) were instructed to go into action any time they received word from any source that assistance was needed. But each command had to go back as far as CINC-PAC (Commander In Chief For the Pacific) to get final authorization to use these forces at the time of an incident. The 5th Air Force was the only military organization which had available within a reasonable distance any aircraft—not from Japan but primarily from Okinawa and possibly from South Korea, although it was somewhat difficult at least at my level to determine what availability there might be in South Korea."

Q. "Okinawa was so far it would not have been too feasible?"

A. "As you are aware, the distance is 500 miles from Okinawa."

The ancient Romans held a festival at about the same time of year as our Christmas. In mid - December, they celebrated the Saturnalia, a festival honoring Saturn, the Roman harvest god.

Taxes

lican on the Ways and Means Committee, added his support to reform, particularly to making all high-income recipients pay some sort of tax.

Alluding to a Treasury Department report that 155 tax returns showing incomes in excess of $200,000 resulted in no tax payments, Byrnes said:

"No matter by what device, no matter how laudable the nature of the deduction or exclusion that produces this result, the fact remains that there is no justification for these individuals being nontaxpayers."

Ways and Means chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., cautioned newsmen not to expect a radical tax code revision this year.

But he added if the hearings disclose particular areas in need of change, the committee might go ahead with legislation on these without waiting for a full overhaul.

Among other subjects to be studied are a number of particular interest to average taxpayers.

One is the possibility of broadening the standard deduction, now limited to 10 per cent of income with a ceiling of $1,000 deducted, so that more taxpayers would be spared the chore of itemizing and justifying deductions.

Another is the complaint of single persons that they are discriminated against, because married couples and other heads of households enjoy income-splitting advantages.

Another tax reform recommendation came Wednesday from a private, nonprofit research organization of business and professional leaders.

The influential Committee for Economic Development said legislation is needed to give the President power to raise or lower taxes by up to 10 per cent, subject to congressional veto.

The CED said this would allow the president a flexible, faster-acting tax mechanism than now available to combat inflation and recessions.

Plane

which the plane would pull up and approach again. However, the crash occurred seconds later.

A crewman who asked that he not be identified, said Bailey and the co-pilot both pulled back on their control wheels but could not gain altitude.

He said the plane pulled up a little bit, hit and bounced twice. The plane, he said, apparently began burning near the fuel tanks in the wings just after crewmen jumped to the ground through an escape window.

Because of the fire, no one who got out was able to get back in to look for others, he said.

Equipment for 10 fire departments rushed to the scene, a rolling 400-acre "clear zone" south of the field.

The tower at Mitchell Field said conditions for landing were "fairly normal" and that the ceiling was about 200 feet with visibility one-half mile.

Southern Philippine City Jolted By Quake

MANILA (AP) — An earthquake of intensity equal to the one which killed over 300 persons in Manila last year, struck the southern Philippine city of Davao, the Weather Bureau announced today.

There were no immediate reports of casualties or damage.

A spokesman at the National Earthquake Information Center in Washington said the tremor measured 7.2 on the Richter Scale.

The Weather Bureau said the quake, was felt to a lesser extent in the big southern island of Mndanao, and some parts of the central Visayan Islands.

Heavy Rains Bring Floods In Ohio Areas

By The Associated Press

Flooding from recent heavy rainfall throughout the state brought evacuation of some families in scattered areas of Ohio today.

While no serious floods had yet occurred, high waters continued to plague many communities. Some National Guardsmen were on duty in at least one community.

The rains continued to fall during the early morning as mild temperatures prevailed, the mercury ranging from the mid to upper 50s—much above normal for this time of year.

As swollen streams overran their banks in some low-lying areas, usually flooded in periods of long heavy rains, sheriff's departments were busy either evacuating some families or keeping a close watch on rising streams.

Colt

cible has been the same type of operation, he said, adding further merger moves are not presently under consideration.

—:—

"THE BASIC Colt philosophy," March stated, "is to organize along product lines, dividing the corporation into units oriented to a single purpose—so people on the firing line have the authority to make the decisions."

He cited General Motors as an example of "divisionalization" for good operations, and said the trend to such a system is growing, referring to General Electric and Westinghouse. "This places authority and control with the people closest to what is going on."

Crucible had embarked on this trend, for example, in reorganizing its stainless and alloy steel sales force, dividing them so they could develop their own lines and exploit them, he said.

"How does it work? We aren't completely sure yet." But he said Crucible's 1968 earnings were considerably above those of 1967.

This was accomplished, he said, by cutting overhead and production costs. The Pittsburgh headquarters was reduced, trimming to 31 employes the staff which had numbered more than 200.

—:—

ELIMINATION of unprofitable Crucible foreign operations was another gain, March mentioned, and the turning of the magnet division into a profitable venture was another.

"We still had major problems, however," March stated. The threat of a steel strike compressed Crucible business into the first half of the year as buyers hedged.

Starting up of the Topblown Oxygen Converter was expensive, and it has not yet been determined what the total cost of this has meant to the firm, he reported.

March said the TOC operating cost at present is "perhaps a little bit cheaper" than the phased-out open hearths, "but we'll improve on that in 1969."

"We want, with the community of Midland, to grow, expand. But we are in a market of tough price competition."

"It is no secret prices are now negotiated, that large volume sales are worked out with buyers lower than the published list prices. This is not illegal, it is the method of working for a lower price and a lower profit margin."

—:—

"BUT IT requires more efficiency and elimination of 'fat' in production. This has meant at Midland, for example, reduction of work force, regretfully the elimination of some people. We were not happy to see some go, but it was necessary to remain competitive."

March spoke of the competition from foreign steelmakers, not only in basic steel forms but in manufactured steel products such as the Volkswagen, and in the deterioration of American prices due to the threat of a switch by buyers to imports.

He said labor costs in Europe and Japan are lower than in the U.S., but figured into the total cost of production, the labor expenses are not so disproportional.

"We don't need tariff or quota protection in the long run," the executive declared, admitting this was contrary to some steel leaders' contention.

He said steel making in Japan and European countries is under the control of the government, and is not aimed at profit making, but at full employment. "They are losing money in some plants," he stated.

—:—

THESE FOREIGN manufacturers also are subsidized and have certain tax preferences, he went on.

"There are unfair practices by some import operations which are illegal under laws presently on the books." He said the import problem could be eased without quotas or tariffs but by enforcing the legislation.

"Why haven't they enforced it?," he asked. "Because they haven't been asked to, and I suggest we do."

March also suggested the State Department recognize its insistence on aiding other countries which have steel producers is contributing to the balance of payments problem, and desist.

He said there will be less steel importing "due to our own strengths." March pointed out the U.S. has its own larger market for steel, and has better management techniques — "The Japanese and Germans continue to study our ways of doing things."

"We can flex our inventory and work force to meet market demands — not keep people who are not needed. The foreign producers cannot do this, for they are obligated to keep full employment."

March predicted the American steel industry will continue to grow — "and Colt-Crucible will expand at a faster rate than the rest of the industry."

A SPECIAL plaque was presented to Harry Green in honor of 50 years distinguished service to the community. His brother, Aaron, who was not able to attend, will also receive a plaque.

The brothers operated the former People's Market on Midland Ave., the present location of Super Foods.

me to provide a significant defense capability."

The court goes into closed session today to hear classified information.

Johnson, commander of the U.S. Naval Forces—Japan at the time, said planes could not operate out of Japan because of an agreement with that country forbiding use of Japan-based aircraft in engagements with unfriendly forces.

After Johnson described the forces available to him, Rear Adm. Marshall White of the five-admiral court said: "Then we really had a contingency plan to use forces that didn't exist. There was no help available for her?"

Answer: "No forces were available to me."

Q. "Then there were no forces readily available to come to the assistance of the Pueblo as I understand your on-call arrangement with the 5th Air Force and the 7th Fleet?"

A. "They (the forces) were instructed to go into action any time they received word from any source that assistance was needed. But each command had to go back as far as CINC-PAC (Commander In Chief For the Pacific) to get final authorization to use these forces at the time of an incident. The 5th Air Force was the only military organization which had available within a reasonable distance any aircraft—not from Japan but primarily from Okinawa and possibly from South Korea, although it was somewhat difficult at least at my level to determine what availability there might be in South Korea."

Q. "Okinawa was so far it would not have been too feasible?"

A. "As you are aware, the distance is 500 miles from Okinawa."

The ancient Romans held a festival at about the same time of year as our Christmas. In mid - December, they celebrated the Saturnalia, a festival honoring Saturn, the Roman harvest god.

Taxes

lican on the Ways and Means Committee, added his support to reform, particularly to making all high-income recipients pay some sort of tax.

Alluding to a Treasury Department report that 155 tax returns showing incomes in excess of $200,000 resulted in no tax payments, Byrnes said:

"No matter by what device, no matter how laudable the nature of the deduction or exclusion that produces this result, the fact remains that there is no justification for these individuals being nontaxpayers."

Ways and Means chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., cautioned newsmen not to expect a radical tax code revision this year.

But he added if the hearings disclose particular areas in need of change, the committee might go ahead with legislation on these without waiting for a full overhaul.

Among other subjects to be studied are a number of particular interest to average taxpayers.

One is the possibility of broadening the standard deduction, now limited to 10 per cent of income with a ceiling of $1,000 deducted, so that more taxpayers would be spared the chore of itemizing and justifying deductions.

Another is the complaint of single persons that they are discriminated against, because married couples and other heads of households enjoy income-splitting advantages.

Another tax reform recommendation came Wednesday from a private, nonprofit research organization of business and professional leaders.

The influential Committee for Economic Development said legislation is needed to give the President power to raise or lower taxes by up to 10 per cent, subject to congressional veto.

The CED said this would allow the president a flexible, faster-acting tax mechanism than now available to combat inflation and recessions.

Plane

which the plane would pull up and approach again. However, the crash occurrel seconds later.

A crewman who asked that he not be identified, said Bailey and the co-pilot both pulled back on their control wheels but could not gain altitude.

He said the plane pulled up a little bit, hit and bounned twice. The plane, he said, apparently began burning near the fuel tanks in the wings just after crewmen jumped to the ground through an escape window.

Because of the fire, no one who got out was able to get back in to look for others, he said.

Equipment for 10 fire departments rushed to the scene, a rolling 400-acre "clear zone" south of the field.

The tower at Mitchell Field said conditions for landing were "fairly normal" and that the ceiling was about 200 feet with visibility one-half mile.

Southern Philippine City Jolted By Quake

MANILA (AP) — An earthquake of intensity equal to the one which killed over 300 persons in Manila last year, struck the southern Philippine city of Davao, the Weather Bureau announced today.

There were no immediate reports of casualties or damage.

A spokesman at the National Earthquake Information Center in Washington said the tremor measured 7.2 on the Richter Scale.

The Weather Bureau said the quake, was felt to a lesser extent in the big southern island of Mndanao, and some parts of the central Visayan Islands.

Heavy Rains Bring Floods In Ohio Areas

By The Associated Press

Flooding from recent heavy rainfall throughout the state brought evacuation of some families in scattered areas of Ohio today.

While no serious floods had yet occurred, high waters continued to plague many communities. Some National Guardsmen were on duty in at least one community.

The rains continued to fall during the early morning as mild temperatures prevailed, the mercury ranging from the mid to upper 50s—much above normal for this time of year.

As swollen streams overran their banks in some low-lying areas, usually flooded in periods of long heavy rains, sheriff's departments were busy either evacuating some families or keeping a close watch on rising streams.

CABLE T.V.

Dear Decibel:
How could they call last night's love movie a love movie? I can't see why Alice married Harry instead of Reginald. Reginald was handsomer!
Disturbed

Dear Disturbed:
If you had bought CABLE TV when I first told you, you would have seen that Harry was handsomer. His being a millionaire had nothing to do with Alice's decision. Decibel

A native of Brooklyn, Sack was graduated from Massachusetts Institute of Technology with a bachelor's degree in economics and metallurgical engineering, together with a master's degree in industrial management.

Downes, with 33 years experience with Crucible, joined the company in 1934 after graduating from Rutgers University in 1933 with a Bachelor of Science degree in business adminsitraton.

After serving five years in correspondent's capacities in the company's New York office, he was named manager of welding wire and electrode sales for the stainless division. In 1945, he was appointed product manager of bar, wire and weld rod sales.

Man Fined $200 And Jailed In Driver's License Charge

A 34-year-old East Liverpool man was fined $200 and costs and given a 10-day term in City Jail after Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff convicted him today on a charge of driving an auto while his operator's permit was under revocation.

Alfred Higgins of 700 Dresden Ave. was arrested Saturday at 12:46 p. m.. on Vernia St. by Patrolman Jack Strobel. He pleaded not guilty. Higgins originally was charged with driving without a valid operator's permit, but the affidavit was amended by Solicitor Robert Simpson with the court's permission before the hearing this morning.

Higgins was cited in December on charges of driving while intoxicated, driving without a license and leaving the scene of an accident, but was found not guilty after a friend testified she was the driver at the time of the mishap.

MEANWHILE, the court set a fine of $1 and costs for James Rawson, 27, of Lisbon RD 2 on a charge of towing a 1936 model truck with another vehicle without filing an application for registration for the truck. He was cited Wednesday at 2 p. m. on Route 170 by the Ohio Highway Patrol.

Rawson told the judge he purchased the truck yesterday at Calcutta and was towing it to Substation, intending to apply for a registration tag. The court called the arrest "silly," and entered a not guilty plea for the defendant. After studying the law, the judge said: "I find you guilty because the law says I must."

Rawson told the court the vehicle he was towing was a 1934 model, not a 1936. The judge said he believes Rawson would be able to get an Ohio "antique auto" tag for the truck.

Robert L. Anderson, 27, of 809 Commerce St., Wellsville, was fined $15 and costs on a charge of speeding 69 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on Route 7. He was cited by the patrol using a new Vascar timing device Jan. 21 at 5:50 p. m.

Alfonso D. Greco, 34, of Milton Ave., RD 3, was fined $5 and costs on a charge of crashing a traffic signal at Pennsylvania Ave. and Boyce St. He was cited at 3:05 this morning.

DALE PERKINS, 27, of 2-F, Midland Heights, paid a fine of $5 and costs on a charge of operating an auto without tail lights. He was cited at 12:30 this morning on Pennsylvania Ave.

The court set a hearing Feb. 11 for Jacqueline Lou Carter, 19, of 847 Pennsylvania Ave., cited Monday at 7:38 p. m. on W. 8th St. on a charge of driving without an operator's permit. The young woman told the court she has a learner's permit and is due to take a driver's exam Feb. 7.

The judge continued until Feb. 6 a hearing for Rodger M. Clutter, 22, of 2200 Danbury Ave., Wellsville, cited on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol. The patrol cited Clutter last Friday at 1:10 a. m. on the Freeway near Westgate School. Clutter is represented by Ben H. Berman.

2 Killed In Viet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Ohio Army men, Sgt. Parker K. Godfrey of Troy and Spec. 4 Donald E. Allen Jr. of Uhrichsville, have been killed in recent action in Vietnam, the Defense Department reported Wednesday.

The demand for spices was so great in the Middle Ages, the National Geographic Society reports, that rents and taxes were often paid with pepper, and a pound of ginger could buy a sheep.

Man Fined $200 And Jailed In Driver's License Charge

A 34-year-old East Liverpool man was fined $200 and costs and given a 10-day term in City Jail after Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff convicted him today on a charge of driving an auto while his operator's permit was under revocation.

Alfred Higgins of 700 Dresden Ave. was arrested Saturday at 12:46 p. m.. on Vernia St. by Patrolman Jack Strobel. He pleaded not guilty. Higgins originally was charged with driving without a valid operator's permit, but the affidavit was amended by Solicitor Robert Simpson with the court's permission before the hearing this morning.

Higgins was cited in December on charges of driving while intoxicated, driving without a license and leaving the scene of an accident, but was found not guilty after a friend testified she was the driver at the time of the mishap.

MEANWHILE, the court set a fine of $1 and costs for James Rawson, 27, of Lisbon RD 2 on a charge of towing a 1936 model truck with another vehicle without filing an application for registration for the truck. He was cited Wednesday at 2 p. m. on Route 170 by the Ohio Highway Patrol.

Rawson told the judge he purchased the truck yesterday at Calcutta and was towing it to Substation, intending to apply for a registration tag. The court called the arrest "silly," and entered a not guilty plea for the defendant. After studying the law, the judge said: "I find you guilty because the law says I must."

Rawson told the court the vehicle he was towing was a 1934 model, not a 1936. The judge said he believes Rawson would be able to get an Ohio "antique auto" tag for the truck.

Robert L. Anderson, 27, of 809 Commerce St., Wellsville, was fined $15 and costs on a charge of speeding 69 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on Route 7. He was cited by the patrol using a new Vascar timing device Jan. 21 at 5:50 p. m.

Alfonso D. Greco, 34, of Milton Ave., RD 3, was fined $5 and costs on a charge of crashing a traffic signal at Pennsylvania Ave. and Boyce St. He was cited at 3:05 this morning.

DALE PERKINS, 27, of 2-F, Midland Heights, paid a fine of $5 and costs on a charge of operating an auto without tail lights. He was cited at 12:30 this morning on Pennsylvania Ave.

The court set a hearing Feb. 11 for Jacqueline Lou Carter, 19, of 847 Pennsylvania Ave., cited Monday at 7:38 p. m. on W. 8th St. on a charge of driving without an operator's permit. The young woman told the court she has a learner's permit and is due to take a driver's exam Feb. 7.

The judge continued until Feb. 6 a hearing for Rodger M. Clutter, 22, of 2200 Danbury Ave., Wellsville, cited on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol. The patrol cited Clutter last Friday at 1:10 a. m. on the Freeway near Westgate School. Clutter is represented by Ben H. Berman.

2 Killed In Viet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Ohio Army men, Sgt. Parker K. Godfrey of Troy and Spec. 4 Donald E. Allen Jr. of Uhrichsville, have been killed in recent action in Vietnam, the Defense Department reported Wednesday.

The demand for spices was so great in the Middle Ages, the National Geographic Society reports, that rents and taxes were often paid with pepper, and a pound of ginger could buy a sheep.

Allen Dulles, Former Chief Of CIA, Dies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Allen W. Dulles, America's master spy who steered the Central Intelligence Agency through nine years of controversial international intrigue, died late Wednesday. He was 75.

Dulles, appointed CIA chief in 1953 by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, retired to private life in 1961 following the Bay of Pigs invasion of Cuba—which with an earlier U2 plane incident was one of several controversial matters involving the intelligence agency under his command.

The White House denied at the time that the invasion fiasco, organized to a large degree by the CIA, was the reason for Dulles' retirement, saying his plans were known well in advance of that.

Order Asked For Midland Police Issue

A move for a Beaver County Court order to have Midland Council arrange for arbitration of a police dispute over a work schedule has been filed by attorneys for the officers.

A mandamus action was filed Wednesday at Beaver County Courthouse seeking an order to have the borough name and arbitration unit and proceed with negotiations on the issue.

Council earlier this month set Feb. 12 for a meeting with the officers. However, the date is a legal holiday, and it remains uncertain if such a meeting would have recognized status.

Nine police officers appeared before Council to protest the work schedule which they claimed was unfair and failed to provide proper protection of the community.

Mayor Eli Corak explained the purpose of the changes, and said it not only met the needs of the community, but was an equitable arrangement for the officers.

Lisbon Police List Mishaps

LISBON — No one was injured in three traffic accidents investigated Wednesday afternoon and this morning by Lisbon police.

One involved an 80-year-old driver, another a woman driver whose son pulled her glasses off and the third a car backing from a private driveway.

Mike Martoe, 80, of Carmichaels, Pa., forfeited a $15 bond on a charge of failure to stop in an assured clear distance.

Police said he was driving north on N. Market St., struck the left corner of a parked sedan owned by Richard E. Welling, 20, of Lisbon RD 2 and knocked it forward into a new sedan owned by John Corfee, 22, of Lisbon RD 4.

The accident occurred at 4:30 p.m. just north of E. Park Ave. Police said Martof told them he wanted to give a southbound vehicle "lots of room."

Mrs. Sara E. Keiper, 55, of Youngstown told police she halted on Jerome St. for the Market St. light, started forward when the light changed, then had to stop suddenly when her son grabbed her glasses.

Her car was hit from behind by a sedan driven by Stephen J. Chestnut, 22, of 401 E. Washington St. The accident occurred at 5 p.m. No one was cited.

Police charged Tod M. Wilson, 18, of Lisbon RD 5 with improper backing after a two-car accident at 8 a.m. on W. Washington St. They said he backed from a driveway at 259 W. Washington and struck a westbound car driven by Richard A. Prasco, 21, of 307 S. Lincoln Ave.

The word curfew comes from the French word "cuevrefu," meaning "cover fire." It was used as a dignal, by the tolling of a bell, to warn townspeople to put out their fires and lights at a certain time of night.

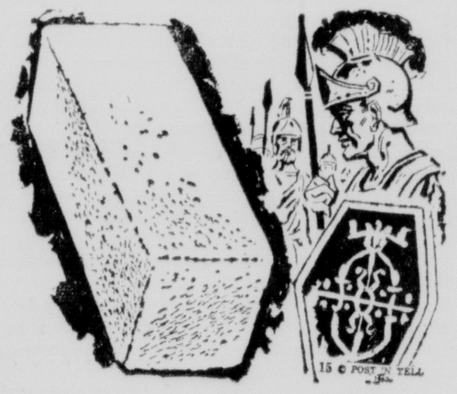
the story of MONEY



In the beginning of the 16th Century Ethiopia and many other countries started to use bars of salt for money.

Roman soldiers were once paid in salt. The word "salary" comes from the Roman word, "Salarium", for salt.

Abel Not Seeking AFL-CIO Post, An Aide Claims

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The head of a committee working to re-elect I. W. Abel president of the United Steelworkers union has denied reports that Abel intends to leave the USW and take over the AFL-CIO.

"President Abel has stated many times that he seeks no other office than the presidency of the United Steelworkers of America," Joseph Germano, co-chairman of the International Committee to Re-elect Abel - Burke - Molony, said Wednesday.

First reports that Abel might succeed George Meany as president of the AFL - CIO were brought to light by Emil Narick, who is challenging Abel in the union's Feb. 11 election.

Narick, a union lawyer, told newsmen a week ago that there were "rumors" that Abel planned to resign if elected and take over for Meany.

Abel was not available for comment at once. But Germano said, "I would like to make it crystal clear Abel will be re-elected. . .and, God willing, for the next four years will serve our membership with dignity and honor.

Shriners Honor Null And Select 3 From County

During the annual meeting of Al Koran Shrine Temple in Cleveland on Monday, Walter B. Null II of Salem was hailed "for outstanding leadership during one of the most important years in the fraternity's history."

Null's service as potentate ended with the annual election following the report of his activities during 1968. He was succeeded by Edward C. Brohl of Avon Lake.

Under Null's direction the Shriners of northeastern Ohio completed construction of a new $2,300,000 headquarters in Cleveland, which was dedicated Sept. 21 during the Great Lakes Shrine Association convention. Null hosted more than 10,000 visitors and 100 fraternal, civic and social dignitaries during the dedication and convention weekend.

The Shriners elected Null to serve another term as an Imperial Shrine representative to the national fraternal convention in Seattle next July.

It was announced that three Columbiana County Shriners will hold appointive and elective offices during 1969.

They are J. E. Monier, president of the East Liverpool Shrine Club; Joseph P. Persohn, 620 Campground Rd., Wellsville, director of the East Liverpool Oriental Band, and J. Russell Moore, 2245 Edgewood Dr., Salem, president of the Salem Shrine Club.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Tip For Easier Broiling

DEAR HELOISE: My husband and I love broiled food, but for just the two of us, I hate the big job of scrubbing the broiler pans.

Heloise

Now I take an aluminum pie plate (one that a frozen pie came in) and stretch heavy-duty aluminum foil tightly over the top, pinching it around the edges.

With a long-handled cooking fork, I pierce the top of the foil many times so grease from the meats can drip into the pie plate.

I place the pie plate on top of the original broiler pan, but one notch lower than the usual broiling position to allow for the height of the pie plate, and then just broil away.

MRS. EDWARD J. BAKER.

Gals, we tried this and it works like a charm..

Now you can have perfectly broiled chops and hamburgers and no messy broiler pan to scrub either.

Try it. You'll see . . .

HELOISE.

P.S. I'M told by many home economists that holes or slits must be in the bottom of anything we broil on. They've proved that to me. That's why all broiler pans have them.

DEAR HELOISE: A folded plastic vegetable sack between the seat and wooden frame of dinette chairs will eliminate that awful squeak, and is so much more permanent than soap.

MESA.

-:-

What'cha know? It works.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I just bought a new Hi-Fi. I haven't had it two weeks. Even with a new diamond needle it sounds scratchy and does not have the volume it should. What should I do?

TOMMY.

DEAR TOMMY: The first thing I would do would be to lift up the gadget that holds the needle and see if you have dust accumulated on the needle. This often happens. Dust must be kept off that needle.

I am sure that many Hi-Fi owners are not aware that accumulated dust on records and needles not only ruins their records and the needles, but also the volume.

It is a good idea to buy a dusting brush (this attaches to the arm of the player) for a few dollars as it will prolong the life of the needle and your records.

If dust is not the cause of your trouble . . . call the place where you bought the machine.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: This may sound funny, but it's true . . .

By cutting smaller biscuits out of the same amount of dought that I usually use, I always have some left over; whereas if I cut them regular size or larger, my family always complains that I didn't make enough!

I guess it's all just in their hungry little heads!

JULIE.

DEAR HELOISE: May I offer a suggestion for anyone who is contemplating a trip, especially with children?

Two or three weeks before leaving, start putting any nickels and dimes you receive in change into a separate small change purse. Two or three dollars worth is not too much to accumulate

You will find this separate hoard invaluable for bus fares, telephones, pay toilets, and soft drink machines.

The small change purse can be carried in a handy pocket.

I have found this to be a wonderful time and temper-saver.

MRS. R. C. WATERHOUSE.

DEAR HELOISE: I am only 10 but I have an idea I would like to tell you about:

I asked my mother if I could have a pair of old clip-on earrings and an old chain necklace.

I cut the necklace in half and glued it on to the earrings with cement glue. It works quite nicely as a sweater guard.

MISS K. FLUKE.

It involved a 1964 convertible driven by Daniel W. Fitch, 21, of 7th Ave., LaCroft, and a 1963 model station wagon operated by Frank B. Gardner, 38, of 225 W. 8th St.

Fitch was driving onto the lot as Gardner backed from a parking spot, officers said.

Meanwhile, Randall C. Stover of Dixon Dr. told officers the right front fender of his 1967 model coupe was damaged by a hit-skip vehicle while parked in Ridge Alley near East Junior High School between 5:30 and 8 p. m. Wednesday.

ANN LANDERS

Teen-Ager Has Problem

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a Lesbian. The word makes me sick but there's nothing I can do about it. All I know is I'm 18 years old and I wish I was dead.

I keep asking myself how I got this way and why it had to happen to me. Whenever I see a boy and girl holding hands, laughing and talking on a street corner, I feel like throwing myself under the wheels of a truck. I wonder how many people ever thank the good Lord for just letting them be normal.

Don't suggest a psychiatrist. I couldn't afford one on my own and I'd rather die than tell my parents what's wrong with me. If they knew, it would kill them.

I don't know why I'm writing to you because you can't help me. I guess I had to talk to somebody and you're the only one there is. Thank you for listening, Ann. — NEITHER FISH NOR FOWL.

-:-

Dear Friend: I can't help you, but you can help yourself.

Tell your parents you are moody and fearful and you want psychiatric help. Therapy will probably not "cure" you, but it will enable you to verbalize your feelings without fear or shame.

And it will do something else. It will help you stop hating yourself. Many people with your problem lead useful, productive lives. Self understanding and self acceptance are the goals. Good luck.

Dad's Hang Up

Dear Ann: Dad lives with us, which is fine. My wife adores him and the children think he's wonderful. For 77 he's amazingly alert. So what's the problem?

Dad's health is failing slowly and he refuses to discuss his insurance arrangements with us. I'm not interested in cash. Dad can't have saved much after raising a family on a barber's pay.

I do know, however, that he has some insurance policies, but I don't know the name of the company. What am I supposed to do, Ann? Run an ad in the paper when Dad dies?

A few months ago I told Dad I'd like to talk to him about his insurance. He said, "Don't worry, Son, everything is taken care of." What now? — UPPA GENSTIT.

-:-

Dear Up: Tell Dad that all you want to know is the name of the insurance company that handles his policies, nothing more. Explain that unless he tells you, all the money he has paid out may go down the drain.

Secret's Out

Dear Ann: Torgel wants to marry me and I have said yes. Several months ago he "laid all his cards out on the table." He informed me that he is a diabetic.

While he was talking I felt guilty because I'm keeping something from him. I wear an upper denture.

If you say I should confess this to him before we marry I will do so. — ST. LOUIS WOMAN.

-:-

Dear Woman: Diabetes is an illness. Dentures do not fall into this category. Since you feel guilty, I suggest you tell Torgel in a light-hearted way that your uppers are store-bought. And don't be surprised if it turns out that he has a full set.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Public And Private Spending Mounts For Health Services

Public and private spending in the United States for health during 1967 topped $50 billion, the January issue of the Social Security Bulletin reports.

The outlays, up more than 12 per cent over 1966, were for all types of health services, supplies, health research and medical - facilities construction.

The article, "National Health Expenditures, 1950 - 1967," by Dorothy P. Rice and Barbara S. Cooper, attributes most of the increase to public spending.

—:—

"OPERATIONS of the Medicare program for its first full year and increased participation in Medicaid," the article says, "led to the following 1967 developments:

"Health spending per person —$251 — was more than 11 per cent greater than the amount per person in the previous year.

"Public spending for health jumped nearly 41 per cent in one year and reached $17.8 billion.

"Intensified public spending for health brought the private share down from 75 per cent in 1965 to 65 per cent.

"The consumer paid out less for care in non - government hospitals than he did in 1966 and his share of these expenditures dropped to 62 per cent; it had been 79 percent in 1966.

"Medicare took over a large part of the personal health care expenditures previoulsy financed out of the aged person's pocketbook. Third - party outlays, with Medicare payments included, paid for 56 per cent of personal health care in 1967 for all persons, but only 35 per cent in 1950."

Of the $5.2 billion increase in public expenditures for health during the year, $3.5 billion is attributed to Medicare, $850 million to public assistance spending, primarily for Medicaid.

"IN 1967," the article "the largest single item of expenditure, both public and private, was for hospital care, including inpatient and outpatient services. Nearly $18 billion, or 35 per cent of all health expenditures, went to purchase hospital care. The second largest category of expenditure was for physician's services, which amounted to $10.2 billion, or one-fifth of the total. In 1967, government assumed some of the consumer's burden of paying for physician care. In spite of rising prices for such care, consumer expenditures actually decreased from 1966 to 1967, falling from $8.4 billion to $8.2 billion. Concomitantly, government payments for physician care were two and one-half times the 1966 figures."

Limited copies of the "Social Security Bulletin" are available from the Office of Research and Statistics, Social Security Administration, Room 3647, HEW North Building, Washington, D. C. 20201, Robert Harris, manager of the district Social Security office here, said.

Innocent Plea Given To Obscenity Charge

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Ray H. Fellows, 62, and his wife Bernadette, 56, pleaded innocent Wednesday in Municipal Court to charges of possession and exhibition for sale of obscene literature at their downtown newsstand.

The couple was arrested by police, who said they bought 12 pornographic magazines at the store. A hearing was set for Feb. 13 and the couple was released without bond.

A knotted string was used as a measuring device in building Egypt's Great Pyramid. It was so accurate that modern instruments show only ½-inch error along one 775-foot side.

East Liverpool Plays Big 8 Game At Alliance, 7-6, Friday

Sports Whirled

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

Midland's Norm Vanlier, who scored 27 points Tuesday night as St. Francis lost to powerful LaSalle 107-95, was named to the ECAC weekly all-east team last week.

Also on the team were Schenley's Ken Durrett, who scored 40 for LaSalle in the St. Francis win, and Pittsburgh South Hills Catholic's Hank South, who starred for Cornell in its loss to Ohio State. All three players have appeared in the M.A. in tournaments here.

GEORGE GREEN of Midland is leading Section 6 in scoring with a 17.7 average in league games only. Howard Leak is fourth and Greg Vanlier sixth.

THE VILLAGE LANES team of Salineville has taken the early lead in the Toronto Lions Bowling Tournament with a 2,986 total.

EAST LIVERPOOL moved up to a tie for 11th with Cincinnati Moeller in this week's UPI scholastic cage ratings.

LEETONIA'S JIM RANCE, tri-captain elect of the Toledo football team, made the honor roll this past quarter. Rance, an offensive tackle, is in the college of education.

CARL DePASQUA, the new football coach at Pitt, was a classmate of Pete Weaver's at Williamsport (Pa.) High School in 1945. Weaver, now of East Liverpool, is a printer at The Review.

HOWARD WEYERS, former East Palestine high football coach, has been named an assistant at Miami under Bill Mallory, another former Bulldog grid mentor. Weyers had been on the staff of Dave Hart at Pitt.

BILL MAZEROSKI of the Pirates has purchased the Pine Cliff golf course in Rayland and has renamed it the Bill Mazeroski golf course. Mazeroski is a native of the downriver area.

EAST LIVERPOOL'S Earl Diddle, who has been playing at Lindsey Wilson Junior College in Kentucky, will transfer to Ashland at the beginning of the second semester.

FRED ZECHMAN will coach the Potter golf team this spring. Last year's coach, Dave Thorne, has put the monkey on Zechman's back by predicting that the Potters should have one of the best teams in the state.

Aviators Hold Win Over Salem

BY TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

On paper, Alliance doesn't have one of the better basketball teams in the Big 8 this season, but the East Liverpool Potters could be caught short Friday night if they are looking past the Aviators toward Salem or the sectional playoffs.

Alliance is 7-6 overall, 2-2 in league play, but have dumped Salem 64-60 in a game at Alliance. Two years ago a favored Potter team fell at Alliance.

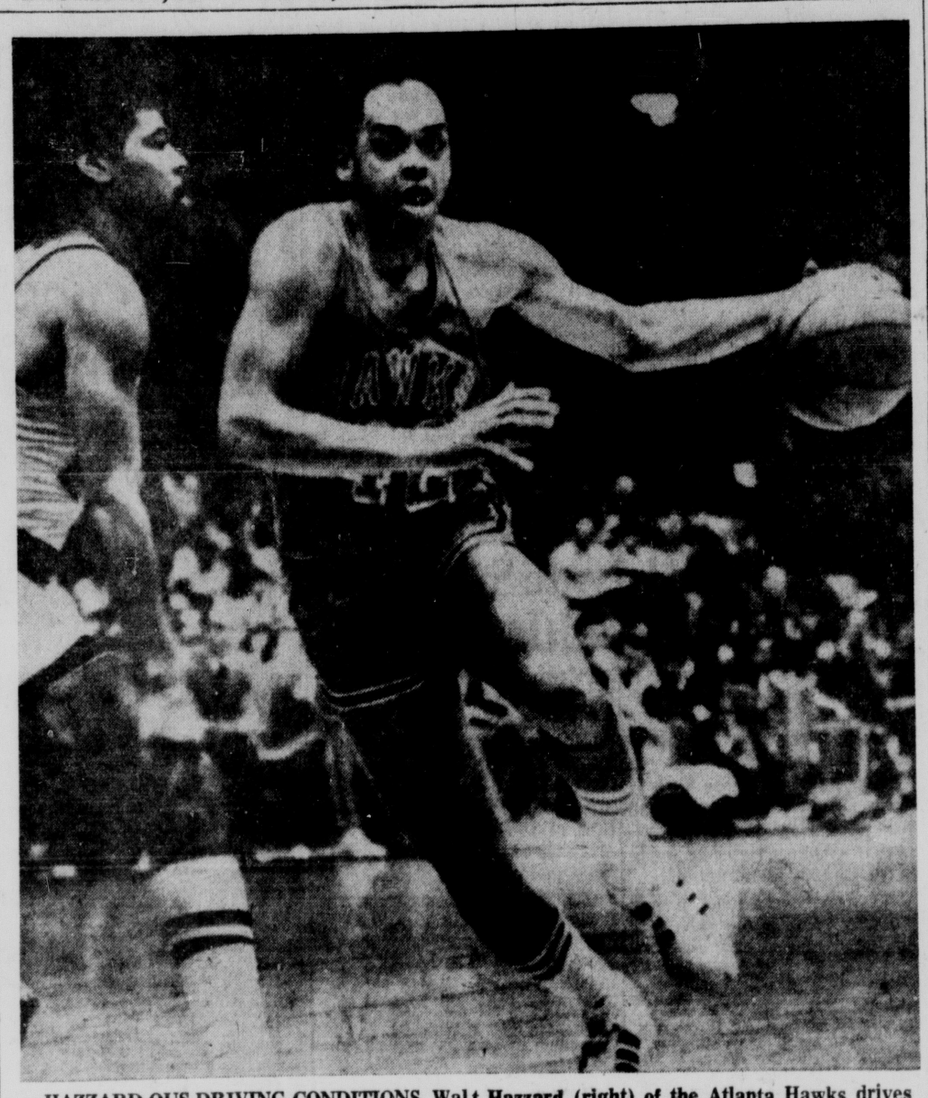
The Aviators have lost to Barberton and Warren Harding in the league, while also downing Niles. Tallmadge, Cuyahoga Falls, Canton McKinley and Canton Catholic have also grounded the Aviators, while other victims have been Akron North, New Philadelphia, Steubenville, Akron East and Youngstown Rayen.

The top scorer for Dick Crockett's team is Curtis Osley, a 6-1 senior. Sonny Ferguson, a 6-2 senior, is the other chief threat. Seniors Jim Booth, 6-3, and Tom Church, 5-11, and junior George Golden, 6-0, complete the starting line-up.

Skip Malone, a 5-10 senior, is also expected to see plenty of action.

East Liverpool will go with its usual line-up of Jerry Christian at center, Rick Steffen and John Johnson at forwards and Dan Cunningham and Bill Montgomery in the backcourt.

The reserve game will start at 6:30 and the contest will be at Stanton Junior High School at the north end of the Mount Union College campus, about six blocks off Route 62.



HAZZARD-OUS DRIVING CONDITIONS. Walt Hazzard (right) of the Atlanta Hawks drives against Wally Jones of the Philadelphia 76ers. The pair were teammates at Philadelphia's Overbrook High School. The 76ers won NBA game at Philadelphia last night 119-96. (UPI Telephoto)

Dark Gets Five-Year Contract

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Alvin Dark has a contract for $300,000 to manage the Cleveland Indians for the next five years and says "I'm tickled to death."

The contract, at $60,000 a year was announced Wednesday and Dark said of the five year pact:

"It's something every manager hopes for, but never really figures to get. I'm grateful to my players, because this couldn't have come about without them. The next thing is to win the pennant as soon as possible."

Tribe General Manager Gabe Paul said the contract gives permancy to one of the most temporary positions in all of baseball.

"It gives Alvin the opportunity to plan and work for the future," Paul added.

Paul said the contract was "in recognition of the fine job he did last year and also of the affection and esteem in which he's held by all of us."

Dark's contract also has a bonus agreement — an attendance clause that goes into effect if the Indians draw more than 900,000 spectators in any season.

Aggies Drop First

Howard Leads N. Mexico Over New Mexico State

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Big Greg Howard is back in good standing at New Mexico but he's public enemy No. 1 at New Mexico State.

Starting for the first time since a six-game disciplinary suspension earlier in the season, the 6-foot-9 Howard poured in 35 points as the unranked Lobos shot the eighth-ranked Aggies from the unbeaten ranks Wednesday night 86-66.

The lanky junior from Pittsburgh connected on 16 of 18 floor shots and three of six at the foul line and pulled down 14 rebounds, twice as many as any Aggie.

New Mexico State had won its first 16 games and only trailed 38-35 at halftime before the Lobos, now 12-6, pulled away.

"They just beat us in all aspects of the game," conceded Coach Lou Henson of the losers.

"This was the win we needed," said Howard. "We have eight games left and we can win them all now." Included is a return engagement with the Aggies Saturday on the Lobos' court in Albuquerque.

During Howard's suspension, the Lobos lost twice and he did not start in three more setbacks since his return.

The outcome Wednesday night left top-ranked UCLA and No. 3 Santa Clara as the nation's only major unbeaten teams.

New Mexico was the only member of The Associated Press' Top Twenty teams to see action Wednesday.

Elsewhere, Ohio University whipped Western Michigan 78-68 and moved into second place in the Mid-American Conference as Gerald McKee and Greg McDivitt scored 20 points apiece. Toledo, which had been second, dropped to fourth by losing to Kent State 72-69 as the winners made 17 of 27 shots in the second half.

Justus Thigpen, playing with a broken hand, fired in 28 points and Willie Sojourner grabbed 20 rebounds to lead Weber State past West Texas State 92-76. Thigpen sat out the first 10 minutes while a bandage on his hand was changed.

Bob Lanier, St. Bonaventure's 6-11 junior center, dropped in 33 points, eight above his average, as the Bonnies walloped Canisius 79-61 in their upstate New York rivalry.

A crucial technical foul against Syracuse Coach Roy Danforth helped Penn State to a 64-58 triumph. Manhattan came from 10 points behind in the second half to turn back Seton Hall 56-52.

Dennis Chapman's 22 points and Pete Gayeska's 20 rebounds led Massachusetts over Fordham 73-60.

In other major games, Southern Mississippi downed Centenary 81-70, Miami, Fla., beat Stetson 98-90, Boston College topped Northeastern 80-69 and Gettysburg turned back Navy 80-71 in overtime.

Super Sonics Surprise Celts

By The Associated Press

Suddenly, the Seattle SuperSonics are playing like super Sonics.

Saddled with the third worst record in the National Basketball Association, the Sonics have been breaking all kinds of barriers in their last three games.

The Sonics have beaten Eastern Division leading Baltimore for the first time, Milwaukee and defending world champion Boston for the first time.

The upset over the Celtics came Wednesday night the hard way. Expected to fold against the relentless pressure usually put on by the Celtics, Seattle instead held up for a 124-122 overtime triumph over Boston in Philalelphia.

In the nightcap of the doubleheader there, Philadelphia streaked to a 119-96 romp over Atlanta. In other games, San Francisco held off host Detroit 133-126, Phoenix stopped Milwaukee 111-107 at Tucson, Ariz., and Los Angeles beat visiting San Diego 122-120.

Len Wilkens was the super Sonic against the Celtics, scoring seven points in the overtime. He and Bob Rule brought Seattle back from a 115-112 deficit to a 117-115 lead and the Celtics never caught up.

Rule finished with 26 points and Wilkens 24, but Sam Jones of Boston led all scorers with 39, including points that brought Boston back from a 13-point deficit to a 106-all tie before Wilkens and John Havlicek traded baskets to send the game into an extra period.

Philadelphia, outrebounding the Hawks 18-5 in the third quarter, jumped from a 58-53 halftime lead to a 89-79 spread and breezed in. Billy Cunningham had 29 points for the 76ers.

Jeff Mullins notched a career high 42 points as San Francisco won its fourth straight game. He twice led the Warriors away in the final half after Detroit came back from 12- and 15-point deficits. Teammate Nate Thurmond added 34 points.

Gail Goodrich broke a 107 tie with a jump shot with 17 seconds remaining and then dropped two free throws after Neil Johnson stole the ball as Phoenix beat Milwaukee for the first time in four starts. Goodrich finished with 33 points.

The Lakers' victory oven San Diego may prove to be a costly one as Jerry West suffered a pulled hamstring muscle late in the third quarter and will be sidelined indefinitely. West hit on nine of 14 shots and scored 28 points.

Wilt Chamberlain saved the game for Los Angeles, blocking two shots in the final 10 seconds. The Rockets, behind by 25 points early in the third period, cut the deficit to two points with 26 seconds left on Don Kojis' jumper.

Elvin Hayes of San Diego led all scorers with 40 points while Chamberlain topped the Lakers with 30.

Duffy Backs Beavers In Pursuit Of Pierce

Rose Nuzzo, who picked four upsets last week and hit on two of them, did an about face this week and is with the consensus of the Review Cage Yogis in every case.

She is joined in that spot by Pete Weaver, but the rest of the group scatters far and wide. The farthest scattered, however, is Chuck Campbell, who has dropped out of the race and headed for sunny California.

Of those still in the action, Lorin Howard goes alone with two picks, Quigley over South Side Beaver and United over Lisbon. Leader Turk Pierce sides with Bob Shaffer in taking Lisbon over Leetonia, while top pursuer Bob Duffy and Shaffer go with Beaver Local over United.

Pierce, Duffy and Bill Crooks back the Beavers against Crestview. Unanimous choices are East Liverpool over Alliance, Midland over Freedom, Wellsville over Southern Local, Mt. Pleasant over Stanton and Yorkville over Stanton.

Colonels Win, Cut Pipers' ABA Lead

By The Associated Press

The Minnesota Pipers still have Jim Harding as their coach and 1½ games as their lead, but the way things are going, neither one will be around much longer.

Harding got into hot water Tuesday when he got into a fist fight with one of the Pipers' owners, and his fate is expected to be decided today.

The Pipers Eastern Division lead in the American Basketball Association, eight games several weeks ago, also is in jeopardy after Kentucky rolled past Houston 113-108 Wednesday night at Louisville.

The Colonels, riding Darel Carrier's 40 points, now trial the Pipers by 1½ games.

In other games, Indiana missed its chance to gain on the idle Pipers by dropping a 131-128 decision at Denver and Dallas routed the visiting New York Nets 120-105.

The Colonels fell behind 57-51 at the half against the lowly Mavericks, but went on a 32-18 spree in the third period to wrap up the triumph. Willie Somerset had 25 points for Houston.

Denver, behind six points with three minutes left, scored eight consecutive points, including three free throws by Lonnie Wright, who finished with 30 points. Freddie Lewis had 27 points for the Pacers, who fell three games behind Minnesota.

Short Takes Over

Senator Manager Lemon, GM Selkirk Get Axe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert E. Short, who says he's impatient with failure, has moved quickly to bring new leadership to the Washington Senators, a baseball team without a winning season in 17 years.

In his first full work day after officially purchasing the American League team, the Minneapolis millionaire fired General Manager George Selkirk and Field Manager Jim Lemon.

Other personnel changes were also expected, and Short hinted that farm director Hal Keller may be next on the ousted list.

"Quite obviously, we may have to build up the farm system," said Short, who scheduled a meeting with Keller today.

Silkirk and Lemon were offered other jobs in the Senators' organization, and both said they had not decided whether to accept.

Lemon, whose rookie year as manager ended last season with the Senators entrenched in 10th place, said he had "an amicable talk" with Short and was not surprised by his dismissal.

Lemon said he was offered "a job which is a mixture between scouting and hitting instructor."

Neither Selkirk nor Short disclosed what position the former general manager was offered, but Selkirk said he planned "to sleep on it" before deciding whether to stay.

In firing Selkirk, general manager during six losing seasons, Short said he was eliminating the position entirely and added: "I do not operate with a general manager in any of my businessess. "I will draw the table of organization with one chief executive officer."

A club spokesman said some of the duties now handled by Selkirk would probably be assigned to another man under a new title, director of player procurement.

Sources said Short's first choice for Lemon's replacement is Bob Kennedy, fired as manager at Oakland in 1968 after guiding the Athletics from 10th to sixth place.

But a club spokesman said Sam Mele, who managed Minnesota to the American League pennant in 1966; Eddie Stanky, former manager of the Chicago White Sox "and others" were under consideration.

Midland's Norm Vanlier, who scored 27 points Tuesday night as St. Francis lost to powerful LaSalle 107-95, was named to the ECAC weekly all-east team last week.

Also on the team were Schenley's Ken Durrett, who scored 40 for LaSalle in the St. Francis win, and Pittsburgh South Hills Catholic's Hank South, who starred for Cornell in its loss to Ohio State. All three players have appeared in the M.A. in tournaments here.

GEORGE GREEN of Midland is leading Section 6 in scoring with a 17.7 average in league games only. Howard Leak is fourth and Greg Vanlier sixth.

THE VILLAGE LANES team of Salineville has taken the early lead in the Toronto Lions Bowling Tournament with a 2,986 total.

EAST LIVERPOOL moved up to a tie for 11th with Cincinnati Moeller in this week's UPI scholastic cage ratings.

LEETONIA'S JIM RANCE, tri-captain elect of the Toledo football team, made the honor roll this past quarter. Rance, an offensive tackle, is in the college of education.

CARL DePASQUA, the new football coach at Pitt, was a classmate of Pete Weaver's at Williamsport (Pa.) High School in 1945. Weaver, now of East Liverpool, is a printer at The Review.

HOWARD WEYERS, former East Palestine high football coach, has been named an assistant at Miami under Bill Mallory, another former Bulldog grid mentor. Weyers had been on the staff of Dave Hart at Pitt.

BILL MAZEROSKI of the Pirates has purchased the Pine Cliff golf course in Rayland and has renamed it the Bill Mazeroski golf course. Mazeroski is a native of the downriver area.

EAST LIVERPOOL'S Earl Diddle, who has been playing at Lindsey Wilson Junior College in Kentucky, will transfer to Ashland at the beginning of the second semester.

FRED ZECHMAN will coach the Potter golf team this spring. Last year's coach, Dave Thorne, has put the monkey on Zechman's back by predicting that the Potters should have one of the best teams in the state.

Aviators Hold Win Over Salem

BY TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

On paper, Alliance doesn't have one of the better basketball teams in the Big 8 this season, but the East Liverpool Potters could be caught short Friday night if they are looking past the Aviators toward Salem or the sectional playoffs.

Alliance is 7-6 overall, 2-2 in league play, but have dumped Salem 64-60 in a game at Alliance. Two years ago a favored Potter team fell at Alliance.

The Aviators have lost to Barberton and Warren Harding in the league, while also downing Niles. Tallmadge, Cuyahoga Falls, Canton McKinley and Canton Catholic have also grounded the Aviators, while other victims have been Akron North, New Philadelphia, Steubenville, Akron East and Youngstown Rayen.

The top scorer for Dick Crockett's team is Curtis Osley, a 6-1 senior. Sonny Ferguson, a 6-2 senior, is the other chief threat. Seniors Jim Booth, 6-3, and Tom Church, 5-11, and junior George Golden, 6-0, complete the starting line-up.

Skip Malone, a 5-10 senior, is also expected to see plenty of action.

East Liverpool will go with its usual line-up of Jerry Christian at center, Rick Steffen and John Johnson at forwards and Dan Cunningham and Bill Montgomery in the backcourt.

The reserve game will start at 6:30 and the contest will be at Stanton Junior High School at the north end of the Mount Union College campus, about six blocks off Route 62.

Dark Gets Five-Year Contract

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Alvin Dark has a contract for $300,000 to manage the Cleveland Indians for the next five years and says "I'm tickled to death."

The contract, at $60,000 a year was announced Wednesday and Dark said of the five year pact:

"It's something every manager hopes for, but never really figures to get. I'm grateful to my players, because this couldn't have come about without them. The next thing is to win the pennant as soon as possible."

Tribe General Manager Gabe Paul said the contract gives permancy to one of the most temporary positions in all of baseball.

"It gives Alvin the opportunity to plan and work for the future," Paul added.

Paul said the contract was "in recognition of the fine job he did last year and also of the affection and esteem in which he's held by all of us."

The Indians finished third in the American League race in 1968 after sinking to eighth the year before. Dark came here at the end of the 1967 season.

Dark's contract also has a bonus agreement — an attendance clause that goes into effect if the Indians draw more than 900,000 spectators in any season.

Quarterbacks Drafted Have Chance Of Playing

By MIKE RATHET
Assciated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Tapping a quarterback at the pro football draft very often turns out to be like buying an expensive piece of China—you wind up putting it on the shelf.

But the crop tapped this year, including top-rated Greg Cook of Cincinnati and two more Negro candidates, appears to have a far better chance of seeing action than the 1968 group.

Twenty quarterbacks were drafted last year, including highly touted Gary Beban, but just four saw considerable action—Greg Landry at Detroit, Dewey Warren at Cincinnati, Dan Darragh at Buffalo and Marlin Briscoe at Denver.

But Cook and his cohorts drafted over the two days of the selection meeting that ended Wednesday after 21 hours and 15 minutes of drafting, appear to be in better shape to break in than their predecessors.

First, let's take a look at how the Top Ten were picked, with name, college, selecting team, round, and over-all number selected among the 442 players picked:

1. Greg Cook, Cincinnati, by Cincinnati, round 1, 5th player.
2. Marty Domres, Columbia, by San Diego, round 1, 9th player.
3. Terry Hanratty, Notre Dame, by Pittsburgh, round 2, 30th player.
4. Bob Douglass, Kansas, by Chicago, round 2, 41st player.
5. Al Woodall, Dule, by New York Jets, round 2, 52nd player.
6. Onree Jackson, Alabama A&M, by Boston, round 5, 110th player.
7. Jimmy Harris, Grambling, by Buffalo, round 8, 192nd player.
8. Sam Havrilak, Bucknell, by Baltimore, round 8, 207th player.
9. Larry Good, Georgia Tech, by Baltimore, round 9, 232nd player.
10. Sonny Wade, Emory & Henry, by Philadelphia, round 10, 236th player.

Of that group, Cook, Hanratty and the two Negro candidates, Jackson and Harris, seem to have the best opportunity to break through while Domres, Douglass and Woodall stand somewhat as surprising selections.

Cook will be competing for the job with the Bengals against veteran John Stofa and two holdover rookies, Warren and Sam Wyche—none of whom were significantly impressive during Cincinnati's first season in the American Football League.

Hanratty, although he didn't go until the second round, would seem to have a shot at playing at Pittsburgh, where only Dick Siner and Kent Nix block the door. At the same time, the door also appears to be ajar for Jackson and Harris.

PATRIOT PICK. The Boston Patriots announced yesterday that they have offered their head coaching job to Clive Rush, offensive coach of the New York Jets. Rush would replace Mike Holovak. (UPI Telephoto)

Jackson was rated as the second best college quarterback in the country by the Patriots, who last year were disappointed in the efforts of Mike Taliaferro and Tom Sherman. Harris, who has been highly regarded during his Grambling career, will be up against somewhat stiffer competition in returning Jack Kemp, out last season with injuries; Darragh, and Kay Stephenson.

Briscoe became the first Negro in the history of pro football to play regularly when he took over at Denver last year because of injuries. But it is expected he will be shifted back to a defensive back spot this year since his greatest potential lies there.

There is ine other Negro candidate on the scene, Eldridge Dickey of the Oakland Raiders, who was schooled at the position during the entire 1968 season but did not play. He is, however, ready to make his debut.

"Jackson could be the Willie Mays of pro football," said Rommie Loudd, the Patriots' player personnel director. And Harvey Johnson, the Bills' top scout, was just as enthusiastic about Harris, who "has a great arm and can throw long and short."

Domres was a surprise because Ivy Leaguers have been snubbed in recent years. Douglass fit into that category because left-handers are frowned on. And Woodall stepped in to qualify because the Jets do have Joe Namath.

St. Louis Nips Penguins 2-1; Rangers Win

Ed Giacomin has this little ambition that most National Hockey League goaltenders share. He'd like very much to win the Vezina Trophy as the league's top goalie. Giacomin, who minds the New York nets, is no hog. He just wants to win it once.

The way to capture the Vezina is for your team to allow less goals than any other club in the league and the Rangers have allowed 115—best defensive figure in the NHL's East Division. Giacomin's 2-0 shutout over Detroit Wednesday night was his second in three games and the road to the Vezina is paved with shutouts.

Giacomin had one little problem. It's called the St. Louis Blues and it's about 18 goals large right now. That's the margin Jacques Plante and Glenn Hall, who share the St. Louis netminding, hold over Giacomin in the Vezina race.

Plante beat Pittsburgh 2-1 Wednesday night as the Blues stretched their unbeaten streak against the West Division to 19 games.

In other NHL action Wednesday, Montreal blanked Minnesota 4-0 Boston and Oakland played a 3-3 tie and Los Angeles upended Toronto 3-1.

Giacomin faced just 23 Detroit shots and saw only one in the second period, recording his fourth shutout of the season.

Vic Hadfield, who scored his 10th goal in 14 games, and Rod Gilbert accounted for the Ranger goals as New York stretched its unbeaten string to six games. The Rangers won their fourth straight under interim Coach Emile Francis, who replaced the ailing Bernie Geoffrion a week ago.

Plante, who has won six Vezina Trophies in his career and celebrated his 40th birthday two weeks ago, was St. Louis' key against Pittsburgh. He stopped 24 shots and lowered his league-leading goals against average to 1.8.

The Blues, who haven't lost to a West team since Nov. 2, grabbed a lead on Bill McCreary's goal in the second period. Gene Ubriaco tied it with Pittsburgh enjoying a two-man advantage in the third period but Ron Schock won it for the Blues with less than six minutes to play and two Penguins in the penalty box.

John Ferguson scored two goals and Gump Worsley blocked 25 shots as Montreal blanked Minnesota.

Yvan Cournoyer picked up three assists for the Canadiens, who wrapped it up with second period goals 59 seconds apart by Jacques Lemaire and Ferguson.

Boston pulled its goalie, Gerry Cheevers, with 33 seconds to play and the strategy worked as the Bruins salvaged a deadlock with Oakland. Ed Westfall produced the equalizer with 17 seconds left, enabling the Bruins to extend their unbeaten streak to 15 games.

John McKenzie and Ken Hodge scored the other Boston goals while Joe Szura, Ted Hampson and Gerry Ehman were the Seals' marksmen.

Los Angeles continued its mastery over Toronto at home, whipping the Leafs for the fourth time in four games at the Forum over two seasons.

Ed Joyal's power play goal snapped a 1-1 tie midway in the first period and Bob Wall added the clincher for the Kings early in the third stanza. Ted Irvine scored the other Los Angeles goal while Murray Oliver of Toronto spoiled goalie Jerry Desjardins' shutout bid.

Cook Good Prospect

Quarterbacks Drafted Have Chance Of Playing

By MIKE RATHET
Assciated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Tapping a quarterback at the pro football draft very often turns out to be like buying an expensive piece of China—you wind up putting it on the shelf.

But the crop tapped this year, including top-rated Greg Cook of Cincinnati and two more Negro candidates, appears to have a far better chance of seeing action than the 1968 group.

Twenty quarterbacks were drafted last year, including highly touted Gary Beban, but just four saw considerable action—Greg Landry at Detroit, Dewey Warren at Cincinnati, Dan Darragh at Buffalo and Marlin Briscoe at Denver.

But Cook and his cohorts drafted over the two days of the selection meeting that ended Wednesday after 21 hours and 15 minutes of drafting, appear to be in better shape to break in than their predecessors.

First, let's take a look at how the Top Ten were picked, with name, college, selecting team, round, and over-all number selected among the 442 players picked:

1. Greg Cook, Cincinnati, by Cincinnati, round 1, 5th player.
2. Marty Domres, Columbia, by San Diego, round 1, 9th player.
3. Terry Hanratty, Notre Dame, by Pittsburgh, round 2, 30th player.
4. Bob Douglass, Kansas, by Chicago, round 2, 41st player.
5. Al Woodall, Dule, by New York Jets, round 2, 52nd player.
6. Onree Jackson, Alabama A&M, by Boston, round 5, 110th player.
7. Jimmy Harris, Grambling, by Buffalo, round 8, 192nd player.
8. Sam Havrilak, Bucknell, by Baltimore, round 8, 207th player.
9. Larry Good, Georgia Tech, by Baltimore, round 9, 232nd player.
10. Sonny Wade, Emory & Henry, by Philadelphia, round 10, 236th player.

Of that group, Cook, Hanratty and the two Negro candidates, Jackson and Harris, seem to have the best opportunity to break through while Domres, Douglass and Woodall stand somewhat as surprising selections.

Cook will be competing for the job with the Bengals against veteran John Stofa and two holdover rookies, Warren and Sam Wyche—none of whom were significantly impressive during Cincinnati's first season in the American Football League.

Hanratty, although he didn't go until the second round, would seem to have a shot at playing at Pittsburgh, where only Dick Siner and Kent Nix block the door. At the same time, the door also appears to be ajar for Jackson and Harris.

PATRIOT PICK. The Boston Patriots announced yesterday that they have offered their head coaching job to Clive Rush, offensive coach of the New York Jets. Rush would replace Mike Holovak. (UPI Telephoto)

Jackson was rated as the second best college quarterback in the country by the Patriots, who last year were disappointed in the efforts of Mike Taliaferro and Tom Sherman. Harris, who has been highly regarded during his Grambling career, will be up against somewhat stiffer competition in returning Jack Kemp, out last season with injuries; Darragh, and Kay Stephenson.

Briscoe became the first Negro in the history of pro football to play regularly when he took over at Denver last year because of injuries. But it is expected he will be shifted back to a defensive back spot this year since his greatest potential lies there.

There is ine other Negro candidate on the scene, Eldridge Dickey of the Oakland Raiders, who was schooled at the position during the entire 1968 season but did not play. He is, however, ready to make his debut.

"Jackson could be the Willie Mays of pro football," said Rommie Loudd, the Patriots' player personnel director. And Harvey Johnson, the Bills' top scout, was just as enthusiastic about Harris, who "has a great arm and can throw long and short."

Domres was a surprise because Ivy Leaguers have been snubbed in recent years. Douglass fit into that category because left-handers are frowned on. And Woodall stepped in to qualify because the Jets do have Joe Namath.

Detroit Tiger rookie first baseman Don Pepper is a turkey farmer in the off - season.

St. Louis Nips Penguins 2-1; Rangers Win

Ed Giacomin has this little ambition that most National Hockey League goaltenders share. He'd like very much to win the Vezina Trophy as the league's top goalie. Giacomin, who minds the New York nets, is no hog. He just wants to win it once.

The way to capture the Vezina is for your team to allow less goals than any other club in the league and the Rangers have allowed 115—best defensive figure in the NHL's East Division. Giacomin's 2-0 shutout over Detroit Wednesday night was his second in three games and the road to the Vezina is paved with shutouts.

Giacomin had one little problem. It's called the St. Louis Blues and it's about 18 goals large right now. That's the margin Jacques Plante and Glenn Hall, who share the St. Louis netminding, hold over Giacomin in the Vezina race.

Plante beat Pittsburgh 2-1 Wednesday night as the Blues stretched their unbeaten streak against the West Division to 19 games.

In other NHL action Wednesday, Montreal blanked Minnesota 4-0 Boston and Oakland played a 3-3 tie and Los Angeles upended Toronto 3-1.

Giacomin faced just 23 Detroit shots and saw only one in the second period, recording his fourth shutout of the season.

Vic Hadfield, who scored his 10th goal in 14 games, and Rod Gilbert accounted for the Ranger goals as New York stretched its unbeaten string to six games. The Rangers won their fourth straight under interim Coach Emile Francis, who replaced the ailing Bernie Geoffrion a week ago.

Plante, who has won six Vezina Trophies in his career and celebrated his 40th birthday two weeks ago, was St. Louis' key against Pittsburgh. He stopped 24 shots and lowered his league-leading goals against average to 1.8.

The Blues, who haven't lost to a West team since Nov. 2, grabbed a lead on Bill McCreary's goal in the second period. Gene Ubriaco tied it with Pittsburgh enjoying a two-man advantage in the third period but Ron Schock won it for the Blues with less than six minutes to play and two Penguins in the penalty box.

John Ferguson scored two goals and Gump Worsley blocked 25 shots as Montreal blanked Minnesota.

Yvan Cournoyer picked up three assists for the Canadiens, who wrapped it up with second period goals 59 seconds apart by Jacques Lemaire and Ferguson.

Boston pulled its goalie, Gerry Cheevers, with 33 seconds to play and the strategy worked as the Bruins salvaged a deadlock with Oakland. Ed Westfall produced the equalizer with 17 seconds left, enabling the Bruins to extend their unbeaten streak to 15 games.

John McKenzie and Ken Hodge scored the other Boston goals while Joe Szura, Ted Hampson and Gerry Ehman were the Seals' marksmen.

Los Angeles continued its mastery over Toronto at home, whipping the Leafs for the fourth time in four games at the Forum over two seasons.

Ed Joyal's power play goal snapped a 1-1 tie midway in the first period and Bob Wall added the clincher for the Kings early in the third stanza. Ted Irvine scored the other Los Angeles goal while Murray Oliver of Toronto spoiled goalie Jerry Desjardins' shutout bid.

Living Costs In December 17-Year High

WASHINGTON (AP) — The rise in living costs slowed in December with an increase of two-tenths of one per cent, but 1968 still wound up with the sharpest annual hike in 17 years, totaling 4.7 per cent, the government said.

The Labor Department's consumer price index ended the year at 123.7, meaning it cost $12.37 last month for every $10 worth of typical family purchases in the 1957-59 period on which the index is based.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics, which supplied the figures, also reported that the average weekly earnings of some 45 million rank-and-file workers rose 5.5 per cent last year but "increases in consumer prices eroded most of this gain."

Most of last month's increase in living costs was due to a six-tenths of one per cent rise in food prices and a five - tenths hike in housing costs.

The bureau also reported an increase of two-tenths of one per cent in wholesale prices in December and a preliminary estimate of another eight - tenths this month, which would be the largest in three years.

The 1968 rise of 4.7 per cent in living costs was the largest since the Korean War year of 1951 when federal wage-price controls were finally imposed to halt the rapid climb.

Arnold Chase, assistant commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, declined to endorse the prediction of former President Lyndon B. Johnson's outgoing Council of Economic Advisers that the price rise would slow to about three per cent this year.

'Sick' Teachers Agree To Transfer Of One

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — The Toledo Federation of Teachers said Wednesday 51 teachers who called in sick earlier in the day would agree to the transfer of one teacher from the health department to the speech department.

Seven substitute teachers and administrative personnel filled in for the absent teachers at Bowsher High School during the sick call. The teachers agreed to return on the condition that the transfer was only temporary.

The most numerous of all birds is Wilson's petrel, which with a length of only seven inches is also the smallest of all sea birds.

2 IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my brother THOMAS MAY who passed away January 30, 1960:
Not dead to those who loved him
Not lost, but gone before;
He lives with us in memory,
And will forever more.
Sadly missed by Sister Laura McClane and Family

3 CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our heartfelt thanks and appreciation for the many kindnesses extended to us during our recent bereavement in the death of Frank M. Wilson. Special thanks to friends and neighbors, Rev. Sloan and ladies of the Church of God, Martin Funeral Home and pall bearers.—Mrs. Gertrude Wilson, Mr. & Mrs. Robert Stollenwerk and Family.

I will always remember the many acts of kindness and sympathy shown me by my friends and neighbors at the time of my sad loss, the death of my beloved son, Terry Kennedy. Special thanks to Rev. Estel for his consoling words, to Dawson Funeral Home and pall bearers. —Pauline Kennedy.

Five salable articles are stored away in the average home and never used. Make a survey of your own attic, garage, basement and closets. Dust off your store-aways and change them into crisp new dollars. There never was a better time to sell through a Review Want Ad.

Living Costs In December 17-Year High

WASHINGTON (AP) — The rise in living costs slowed in December with an increase of two-tenths of one per cent, but 1968 still wound up with the sharpest annual hike in 17 years, totaling 4.7 per cent, the government said.

The Labor Department's consumer price index ended the year at 123.7, meaning it cost $12.37 last month for every $10 worth of typical family purchases in the 1957-59 period on which the index is based.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics, which supplied the figures, also reported that the average weekly earnings of some 45 million rank-and-file workers rose 5.5 per cent last year but "increases in consumer prices eroded most of this gain."

Most of last month's increase in living costs was due to a six-tenths of one per cent rise in food prices and a five - tenths hike in housing costs.

The bureau also reported an increase of two-tenths of one per cent in wholesale prices in December and a preliminary estimate of another eight - tenths this month, which would be the largest in three years.

The 1968 rise of 4.7 per cent in living costs was the largest since the Korean War year of 1951 when federal wage-price controls were finally imposed to halt the rapid climb.

Arnold Chase, assistant commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, declined to endorse the prediction of former President Lyndon B. Johnson's outgoing Council of Economic Advisers that the price rise would slow to about three per cent this year.

'Sick' Teachers Agree To Transfer Of One

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — The Toledo Federation of Teachers said Wednesday 51 teachers who called in sick earlier in the day would agree to the transfer of one teacher from the health department to the speech department.

Seven substitute teachers and administrative personnel filled in for the absent teachers at Bowsher High School during the sick call. The teachers agreed to return on the condition that the transfer was only temporary.

The most numerous of all birds is Wilson's petrel, which with a length of only seven inches is also the smallest of all sea birds.

Junior Editors Quiz on TAXIDERMY

QUESTION: How can stuffed animals in museums look so life-like?

ANSWER: Modern taxidermy — the art of stuffing animals — had its origin in the 1500's, but the first examples, as we show at upper left, were crude. The skins were simply stuffed with straw and sewed up. Nowadays, entirely different methods are used. In the late 1800's, the naturalist and sculptor, Carl Akeley, worked out a way of making mounted animals look unbelievably real. In this process (1), the skin of the animal is carefully measured and a complete model made in clay to show the action of all the muscles. Then (2) this is covered with plaster, which, when taken off, makes a mould in several pieces. Each mould piece is then lined with burlap dipped in glue. When dry, the stiffened burlap pieces are taken out and joined together, making a light but strong manikin of the animal's body. The animal's skin is stretched over this (3). When such mounted animals are set in a museum group with foliage and skillfully painted background, the effect is startling—the real animal seems to be right there.

(Mary Brown of Oakland, N.J., wins a prize for this question. You can win $10 cash plus AP's handsome World Yearbook if your question, mailed on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, is selected for a prize.)

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Thursday, Jan. 30, the 30th day of 1969. There are 335 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1933, Adolf Hitler came into official power as he was named chancellor of Germany.

In 1646, King Charles I of England surrendered to Parliament. He was beheaded two years later.

In 1835, the first attempt to assassinate an American president was made. A would-be assassin shot twice at Andrew Jackson at the Capitol Building in Washington, but missed.

In 1840, New Zealand was incorporated as part of the British Empire.

In 1847, the California town of Yerba Buena was renamed San Francisco.

In 1948, the Indian nationalist leader, Mohandas K. Gandhi, was assassinated in New Delhi.

One year ago: U.S. forces crushed a seven-hour Viet Cong suicide attack on the U.S. Embassy in Saigon.

Then (2) this is covered with plaster, which, when taken off, makes a mould in several pieces. Each mould piece is then lined with burlap dipped in glue. When dry, the stiffened burlap pieces are taken out and joined together, making a light but strong manikin of the animal's body. The animal's skin is stretched over this (3). When such mounted animals are set in a museum group with foliage and skillfully painted background, the effect is startling—the real animal seems to be right there.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Thursday, Jan. 30, the 30th day of 1969. There are 335 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1933, Adolf Hitler came into official power as he was named chancellor of Germany.

In 1646, King Charles I of England surrendered to Parliament. He was beheaded two years later.

In 1835, the first attempt to assassinate an American president was made. A would-be assassin shot twice at Andrew Jackson at the Capitol Building in Washington, but missed.

In 1840, New Zealand was incorporated as part of the British Empire.

In 1847, the California town of Yerba Buena was renamed San Francisco.

In 1948, the Indian nationalist leader, Mohandas K. Gandhi, was assassinated in New Delhi.

One year ago: U.S. forces crushed a seven-hour Viet Cong suicide attack on the U.S. Embassy in Saigon.
